Being in the printing and publishing business as he was, Benjamin Franklin, to whom these words are attributed, must have had some thought about ADVERTISING in his mind when he spoke.

Many local merchants and skilled workers find it a convenient method to "keep their shops" by telling their story through Register Classified Ads.

At low cost they reach hundreds of readers, and their business grows steadily ahead.

The Classified Ads are ready to serve YOU, too; whether you desire to buy, sell, rent or exchange. Read and use them regularly!

morning and was comforted. Thank you, dear children, keep faith."

The demonstration ended when the evangelist re-entered the house and the students marched quietly away with a few scattering "hallelujahs" and "glory to God."

Two Refuse to Appear
Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy both refused an invitation today to appear before District Attorney Keyes for questioning.

"I'm too tired," Mrs. Kennedy told Keyes over the telephone. "I'm too ill," Mrs. McPherson told the prosecutor a moment later.

Keyes told the Angelus temple leaders that he wanted to give them an opportunity to appear, in keeping with his policy to obtain affidavits from everyone involved in the tangled case.

Arrest Predicted for Friday
Mrs. McPherson's self-predicted arrest may take place tomorrow, District Attorney Asa Keyes indicated today.

"I am not going to arrest Mrs. McPherson today," announced the district attorney, "but my investigation will probably close by tomorrow when action will be taken."

Keyes said that two more important witnesses were to be questioned during the day concerning charges that Mrs. McPherson conspired to invent evidence to substantiate her story of kidnapping.

They are Joe Watts, purported father of "Steve," one of three alleged kidnappers, and Mrs. Elizabeth Frame, former employee at Angelus temple. The latter is said to have admitted being the go-between for Mrs. McPherson in the alleged payment of "expense money" to Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman, author of the "Miss X" hoax.

Can't Find Mrs. Frame
Attempts to locate Mrs. Frame had been unavailing at a late hour this morning.

"We have been trying to find her for the past 24 hours," said the district attorney.

"As soon as Watts and Mrs. Frame have been questioned, we will take action in the McPherson case."

Keyes' investigation is being pursued along the following lines:

1. That perjury has been committed in the manufacture of evidence.
2. That the course of justice has been obstructed.
3. That grand jury witnesses were intimidated and influence brought to bear to cause them to perjure themselves.

DARROW DENIES RECEIVING APPEAL

GREELEY, Colo., Sept. 16.—Clarence Darrow, Chicago's noted criminal lawyer, has not been appealed to to defend Aimee Semple McPherson, in the event of her arrest, he said here today. Darrow is vacationing here with his son, Paul Darrow.

"I wish they wouldn't get out a report every time anyone gets in trouble that I would defend them," said Darrow.

Darrow did not commit himself on what his action would be if asked to defend the evangelist.

Movie Chatterbox

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16.—George Washington an Austrian soldier? Even the wildest of characters could not imagine the Father of America in such a role—except in the movies, where anything can happen. And that's just exactly where the transformation took place.

For several years David Ward has impersonated our first president, both on the screen and in patriotic celebrations. Ward is six feet two inches tall, which was exactly the height of Washington. His weight is within two pounds of Washington's. At various times Ward has worn articles of Washington's clothing and they have been found to fit perfectly.

Often Done
Artists and sculptors, especially in Italy, have often represented Washington in other characters than his own but it remained for Eric von Stroheim, cinema director, to cast him—and successfully as an Austrian soldier.

In connection with the showing of the military splendor in Vienna before the World War in "The Wedding March," the late Emperor Franz Joseph's life guard mounted appears very prominently. In the old days in Vienna, von Stroheim actually was a member of Franz Joseph's famous guard. So he really should have known the type of players to choose for the guardsmen.

"To say that I was surprised when I found out who one of my guardsmen would be an untruth—I was startled," declares von Stroheim.

Huge Joke
"I didn't say anything when von Stroheim picked me to be a member of the guard because I thought it a huge joke," Ward told me. "For years I have been portraying Washington, one of the outstanding Americans of all time, and here I am picked as a typical Austrian soldier. I should be enough to make George's spirit smile—if there is such a thing."

Von Stroheim already had started "shooting" the scenes in which the Life Guard Mounted appeared before a cameraman enlightened him as to the identity of one of his uniformed soldiers. It was too late to make a change then so in one picture "George Washington" is an Austrian soldier.

"But hereafter I'm going to be more careful when it comes to casting the various roles," exclaimed the director.

Incidentally, von Stroheim wrote, directed and played the leading role in "The Wedding March."

THREE HIGHWAY HOLDUPS AND SIX BURGLARIES REPORTED TO OFFICERS; CHURCHES ENTERED

City police and sheriff's officers today were busy attempting to unravel a series of highway robberies and burglaries in Orange county last night. Six places were burglarized and three holdups were reported to officers late last night and early today.

The details on all the burglaries and holdups were not complete at the sheriff's office at noon today, but officers are seeking the occupants of a Chrysler roadster, carrying California state license No. D. 50-938, in connection with the holdups, one of which occurred at Brea, one at Orana and one at the site of the Orange County fair grounds, between here and Anaheim.

The first holdup report came from Brea officers, who said that two bandits, in a roadster, held up Mr. and Mrs. James Tallman and the latter's sister, of Placentia, on the highway between La Habra and Brea, at 9:45 p. m. The Tallman machine was forced to the side of the road by the bandit machine. Tallman was robbed of a watch worth $100 and $30 in cash and Mrs. Tallman lost a handbag. One of the bandits was described as being short, the other tall.

At Fair Grounds
The next holdup report came from H. E. McGilvery, address unknown, who reported that two men held him up at the site of the county fair. No report was made as to how much money was taken from McGilvery.

The bandits then went to Orana, where, at 11 o'clock last night, they held up a man and his wife, who were riding in a large car. The machine was forced to the side of the road as in the Brea holdup, but the bandits were frightened away when the woman in the machine is said to have faint.

The report was made to a Santa Ana night watchman, who did not report the names of the persons. The descriptions given of the hold-up men tallied with the descriptions of the men connected with the other robberies, however, it was said.

State motorcycle officers, together with a half dozen deputy sheriffs, scoured the roads far into the night for a trace of the machine, but it had not been found late today.

Through the sheriff's office it was learned today that the machine in question was the property of S. B. Johnson, 623 Chapman building, Los Angeles, and that it was stolen last night from a Los Angeles street.

Car Stolen in L. A.
The ownership of the machine was traced through its number by Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, who reported the robberies to the Los Angeles police. The Los Angeles police reported that the car was stolen there early last night and that the couple had staged one holdup in Los Angeles county, before coming to Orange county.

Burglars stole money and valuables worth $260 from the San Pedro Lumber company office, Westminster, some time last night, after they had gained entrance by smashing a glass door. They placed flypaper over the glass to keep it from shattering and unlocked the door from the inside.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan and Deputy Sheriff Dan Adams investigated early today. Two shotguns, worth $84; three small chests of silver, with a total value of $70; two radio sets, worth $60; an automobile tire, valued at $15; $25 worth of shotgun shells, a $4 clock and $2 in nickels were stolen in the hardware department of the lumber company, according to the report.

Thieves stole 21 cartons of cigarettes from the Daley store, Garden Grove, last night, according to a report filed with the sheriff's office this morning. Entrance into the building was made by cutting a screen door and breaking the glass in the inner door sufficiently to unlock it from the inside.

Garage Is Burglarized
From there, the same thieves are thought to have gone to the Garden Grove garage, which was burglarized after a glass window, on the side of the building had been broken. Twelve new automobile tires were stolen, together with a large number of inner tubes and approximately $10 in cash, according to a report made here.

When the theft was discovered early today, a dog was found inside the building. How the dog got into the place is a mystery to officers, who investigated. The garage was locked securely this morning and the dog could not have entered the building alone, it was said.

Officers are seeking the owner of the dog, who is known to authorities. The dog is being held as a possible clue to the burglary.

Burglars entered the study of the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, Sixth and Broadway, some time last night, stealing a typewriter, No. 201844; a clock, a cheap watch and a flashlight, it was reported to police early today.

Entrance into the church was made through the basement of the building, which was entered with the use of a passkey. The pastor's study was burglarized after the door had been forced open, according to Herman Zabel, who investigated for the sheriff's office.

Nothing of Value Taken
Reports made later today to police were to the effect that two other Santa Ana churches also were entered by thieves last night. Nothing of great value was taken from either of the houses of worship.

The Congregational church, Seventh and Main streets, was entered and a part of the communion service, which included four platters and 36 communion glasses, stolen. Several bottles of ink were poured in the seats of chairs in the study.

A candle lighter was stolen from the Episcopal church, Seventh and Bush streets, last night. Several rooms in the church were ransacked, but nothing of value was reported stolen.

C. C. Cravath, Laguna Beach real estate man, reported to the sheriff's office today that 15 gallons of gasoline and 10 gallons of oil were stolen from a tank on a subdivision, near Laguna Beach, last night. No clues were found as to the identity of the thieves.

U. S. Gunboat Clashes With Chinese

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—An artillery duel between the American gunboat Pigeon and Chinese civil war forces at Chingling Ki, near Hankow, was reported to the state department today by Consul General Frank P. Lockhart. No casualties were reported by the Pigeon, which returned machine-gun fire, after being fired upon by a Chinese battery.

POLICE RUSHED TO ANGELUS TEMPLE

"I did not receive one penny from anyone," he said. "I did not know what my picture had been used for until I saw the newspaper stories. I don't know what it is all about."

Watts denied also that he had talked over the telephone to Mrs. McPherson and that it was his voice the evangelist recognized as that of "Steve."

Another important witness to be heard today was Harry Melosh, private detective, said by district attorney investigators to have been identified as the mysterious "Mr. Martin," who first plotted the "Carmel hoax" with Mrs. Wiseman.

Melosh, it was claimed, offered to produce for "sale" to local newspapers all evidence necessary to substantiate Mrs. McPherson's story of abduction.

Long Statement Issued

A lengthy typewritten statement was issued at Angelus temple, categorically denying the confession of Miss Bernice Morris. "The charges outlined in the purported confession of Miss Bernice Morris are false," the statement said.

District Attorney Keyes was protected today by a special bodyguard. His home was guarded during the night by special officers.

Action to protect the prosecutor followed an appeal of Mrs. McPherson to her followers, in person and by radio, to "courteously protest" to Keyes against any further investigation of the case.

The district attorney was besieged by telephone protests until his phone was disconnected.

"My official action in the McPherson case cannot be influenced, swayed or guided in the least degree by passionate or partisan appeals on one side or the other," Keyes declared.

"As district attorney, I must perform my duty as such, without fear or favor, protecting the innocent and prosecuting the guilty. I shall endeavor in this case, as in all others, to uphold the law of the land."

CORONA DEL MAR

CORONA DEL MAR, Sept. 16.—George F. Klever and wife, long time residents of Santa Ana, are now living in Corona del Mar, where Mr. Klever is associated with Clifton J. Platt in the real estate business.

Mr. and Mrs. S. DeGraff, of Pasadena, are spending two weeks in their cottage here.

Mrs. T. Comboy, who has been occupying one of J. R. Tait's cottages for several months, left Saturday for Yuma. Mr. Comboy will remain here until the completion of the street improvements now in progress.

The Rev. John T. Tucker, who has been visiting relatives here while on a furlough from his missionary work in Africa, left for Canada in August and is now in England. From there, he will go to LeVoute, Belgium, where he is to speak at the international conference on Christian missions in Africa. He will return to Toronto, Canada, in time to give an address there on October 5. Mrs. Tucker is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Stukeby, and will remain until October.

O. A. Rawlings left Friday of last week to enter a sanitarium in Los Angeles, where he will remain until able to undergo an operation.

R. J. Atchley, of Santa Ana, moved a house from Huntington Beach this week for Mrs. Schrader of Pasadena, placing it on Rahlia avenue.

Mrs. M. Flagg and William Flagg are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Flagg's son, Orin Flagg and family, who motored down from their home in Salem, Ore. Another recent visitor to the Platt home was Miss Lella Flagg, of Boston, who left last week after a three weeks' visit here. Miss Flagg will visit Honolulu before returning to her home in the east.

Mrs. Charles Martin, who has been visiting in the east for several months, has returned. Her daughter, Mrs. Feeley, is expected to join her here in November.

Madame Gertrude Ehrlich, a musician and composer of Los Angeles, has been the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cardozo Sloan for the past week.

Dr. Ross Allen Harris, of Los Angeles, has been entertaining friends at his summer home here for the past week.

Mrs. Henry Godin and Mrs. Frances Godin have been the houseguests for a month of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Lucas at Snug Harbor. During that time Mr. and Mrs. Lucas and their guests made a trip to Mexico and several points in California, including the Rim of the World and Big Bear lake. Lieut. Richard Godin joined his wife, Mrs. Frances Godin, for a short time here. Lieut. Godin is on the U. S. S. Oklahoma, now at San Pedro.

THIRTEEN BILLS AMENDING DRY ACT IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Thirteen bills to amend or strengthen the national prohibition act have been placed in an advanced position upon the senate calendar for action at the coming short session of congress, opening in December. Although most of them are so-called wet bills, championed by those against prohibition, there is one measure which the treasury department and the drys intend to force to the front. And when this one bill is brought forward it will open the way for the wets to discuss the entire subject of prohibition and to tack on their pet measures as amendments.

The important measure from the standpoint of assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews, in charge of prohibition enforcement, is the bill passed last session by the house, which would create a separate prohibition bureau within the treasury department and strengthen its powers.

Andrews betrayed dismay when the measure failed of adoption in the senate last session because of the press of time. His friends have intimated that unless the bill is passed he will immediately resign his post, in the belief that the law cannot be effectively enforced without the desired legislation.

The wet measures carry the adverse reports of the senate judiciary committee and were reported merely because the wets accused the drys of sidetracking the measures to prevent a vote.

Included in the wet bills are the following:
By Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, to permit physicians to issue any number of liquor permits they see fit; to permit manufacture of spirits of more than one-half of one per cent which may be proved to be "non-intoxicating in fact"; to permit manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer; to permit states to determine whether or not they should have local option prohibition; to permit manufacture of liquor in homes without a permit, and a joint resolution for a national referendum.

By Senator Bruce, Democrat, Maryland, joint resolutions to amend the eighteenth constitutional amendment to permit local option and government supervision of shipments in interstate commerce.
By Senator Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey, to permit four per cent beer.

BAND HELPS CEMENT TIES OF FRIENDSHIP

The Santa Ana municipal band made a "big hit" at the San Diego fair and the courtesy of the city of Santa Ana in providing the band for the big feature event of the opening night of the fair cemented more closely the ties of friendship existing between this city and the bay city, according to reports made to the directors of the chamber of commerce today by Clyde Downing, president of the chamber; George Raymer, secretary; Harry Hanson, manager of the band and a chamber director, and Horace Fine, of The Register. The directors discussed and acted upon a number of minor business matters, included in which was an appropriation of $100 to the fund being raised for participation of the Santa Ana Air club in the second annual world flight commemoration meet, to be held Sunday, September 26.

Royalty Crease Unchanged, Says Style Arbiter

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—"Who ever made such a statement?" It is a beastly lie. His majesty still is pressing his pants on the side," exclaimed J. A. Murdocke, with rising indignation, when informed that King George was having his pants pressed down the center.
Murdocke, who is the recognized arbiter of men's fashions in London, where he lives, arrived here aboard the Majestic.
"The king," he continued, "and all the Buckingham set, still are pressing their trousers on the side. It is a custom that is not going to change and despite any statement cabled to New York to the contrary, it is not so."
Murdocke was dressed in a double-breasted gray flannel suit, blue shirt and tie, California brown fedora and cocoa brown buckskin shoes. A large red carnation and a cane were included in his wardrobe.
"As for the Prince of Wales," said Murdocke, "while he is the real arbiter of styles for men, he does not dress well. He goes in for comfort."

Motion Pictures With Sad Endings Are Most Popular

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The Latin American motion picture audience cares little about the happy ending of motion pictures, whereas North American patrons dislike to leave the theater with a tear in the eye.

This was shown in a survey of the films exported to South America, as recorded by commerce department officials at Washington. The South American does have his preferences, however, and among these is the desire of the cultured classes for pictures concerned with wealth, fashions and jewels.

The Latin American taste in movies has a large bearing on the export industry for in the last year this continent has become the largest market for American films, although the European exportations bring in a greater financial return.

You And Your Friends

Please Phone or Mail Items

Miss Wauvita Hawthorne, 222 South Birch street, left Sunday for a two weeks' vacation in Sacramento and San Francisco, planning to make the return trip by boat.

Mrs. Clarence Safley, 1541 East Fourth street, has departed for Tipton, Ia., where she will spend several weeks visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Loucks of Kearney, Neb., are enjoying a California honeymoon, and are spending some time at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hawthorne, 222 South Birch street.

Mrs. Belle Melton, 519 East Fifth street, plans to leave Saturday for Kentucky where she will visit relatives. Mrs. Melton will stop at a number of cities enroute where she has friends.

W. C. Mitchell, 416 West First street, planned to combine business and pleasure during his trip in the middle west on which he left yesterday by way of the Southern Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. George West and children of El Segundo spent the week-end at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. R. West, 1007 Riverdale avenue. Other guests were Mrs. West's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maddux, son Clinton and daughter, Margaret of Bakersfield. Margaret remained with her grandmother to attend Frances Willard junior high school until her parents get settled in Los Angeles, where they plan to make their future home.

George Gerwing of 200 South Bristol street, sailed today for San Francisco on the S. S. Harvard, his trip being arranged by the Westgate Steamship agency here. The young director expects to assist in putting on two plays and direct others, but his further plans are uncertain. Tentative arrangements have been made for a four years' trip to the Orient, but the plan may be changed to a journey to New York. Mr. Gerwing is connected with the Wilbur Gould players.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Morris of Kansas City, Mo., who motored out to the coast, arrived on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Cunningham, 813 West Pine street, remaining until Tuesday, when they went to Los Angeles. They are looking for a location in Southern California.

Mrs. K. E. Hillestad of the Grand Central market enjoyed a visit last week from her sister-in-law, Miss Elizabeth Hillestad of Los Angeles, the two spending three days at Balboa. Mr. and Mrs. Hillestad motored to Santa Barbara over the past week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie E. Herr and their two daughters, Vivian and Claire, have returned to their home at 606 North Ross street after a delightful six weeks' camping and fishing trip. The family first pitched tent in Oregon in the Rogue river country, where fishing was enjoyed for a few days before going to Diamond lake about 15 miles beyond Crater lake, where a stay of three weeks was made and fishing was fine. Coming back into Siskiyou county, two weeks were passed and Mr. Herr secured a fine deer. The weather there was very cold morning and night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Vincent have again taken possession of their town house at 417 West First street, after spending the summer at their Laguna Beach home. Their guests, Attorney William Hirth, Mrs. Hirth and their son, William Vincent Hirth Jr., of Columbia, Mo., who were guests at the beach, have returned east, where William Vincent attends military school. Mrs. Hirth is Mr. Vincent's niece, and she plans to purchase a home here and spend the winters in sunny Southern California, the family being very enthusiastic over the country. Mr. Hirth, besides being a lawyer, owns the Missouri Farmer's magazine and has an 800-acre ranch in Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Vincent and their children, Ronald E. Vincent and baby Robert Leroy, who have been here since last March, have returned to their home in the Verdugo Woodlands, Glendale, for the school year. Mr. Vincent hopes to shape his business affairs so that the family may come to Santa Ana to make their home again.

Captain Hugh B. Adair, military instructor at the University of Washington, who has been spending the summer with his father, A. B. Adair of Loma Solana, El Modena, will sail on the Ruth Alexander Sunday to return home. His passage was arranged for by Francis Westgate.

Miss Jeanne Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Wilson, 719 Cypress avenue, and Miss Teresa Phillips of Portland, Ore., who has been visiting friends in Los Angeles, are booked by the Westgate Steamship agency to sail on the Ruth Alexander Sunday for Portland. Miss Wilson is entering Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis for a domestic science course, Miss Phillips being a graduate of that institution.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. George, 524 South Birch street, will spend a pleasant month with a boat trip north, sailing on the Ruth Alexander next Sunday, their passage having been planned by the Westgate agency. Stops will be made at San Francisco and other points north, their destination being Victoria, B. C., where they will meet their son, J. A. George, of the Federal Finance company, who is returning from his vacation spent in eastern and middle Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Mosher and their daughter, Miss Mollie Mosher, have returned to their home at 1428 Spurgeon street from Balboa, where they have spent the past three months. They will leave on Sunday on the Ruth Alexander for Seattle, where Miss Mosher will enter University of

LA HABRA MAN IN SAN QUENTIN GIVEN PAROLE

Ira F. Noble, La Habra man, who was sent to San Quentin two years ago upon his conviction of second-degree murder, has been pardoned by the state prison board, it was learned here today.

The pardon came September 4. It was announced that Noble was pardoned "to medical care," which is understood to be that of his brother, William Noble, himself recently paroled from the Orange county jail, where he was sentenced a few months ago for a term of five years.

Ira Noble was serving a sentence of from one to 10 years for the killing of Grady B. Rutherford in a gambling quarrel in La Habra. It is said that he is suffering from an incurable ailment and has been in the prison hospital during most of his stay at San Quentin.

William Noble, his brother, was found guilty of assault with intent to commit murder following the election riots in La Habra last April. It was claimed that he attacked former City Marshal Leo Martin with a pistol.

Noble was paroled from the jail August 29 by Superior Judge Z. B. West, who had sentenced him.

Washington to continue her music course begun at U.S.C. She goes north for the benefit of her health. The family is taking the automobile aboard and Mr. and Mrs. Mosher will motor home, being absent three weeks. Miss Mosher was entertained at Idlewild over Labor day by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Metzgar and family, yesterday at Long Beach by a U.S.C. friend and tomorrow goes to U.S.C. to say farewell to her classmates.

S. H. Corrow, 512 West Camille street, returned today after a three months visit in his old home in Montana.

Miss Mary Banks and her grandmother, Mrs. L. A. Banks, of 702 Spurgeon street have gone on a visit to Medford, Ore. Miss Banks being expected home Saturday and her grandmother remaining until the middle of October at the home of her son, L. A. Banks.

SHORE COLONY IS INVOLVED IN LEGAL ACTION

Legal entanglements involving the Seashore Colony tract at Newport Beach, where 700 lots recently were placed on the market, have developed with the filing of suit in superior court, by C. R. Woodruff, beneficiary under a trust agreement covering sale of the lots, who claims that Lew H. Wallace, executor of the trust, has failed to perform his trust and now is threatening damage to Woodruff's interests by a forced sale of the remaining lots.

Woodruff asks the court to prevent the threatened sale and to remove Wallace as trustee. He also demands an accounting of profits and receipts under the trust and wants the rights of various parties in the trust determined. He claims that the 700 original lots were worth $217,000 and the lots remaining unsold are worth $189,000. If a forced sale took place now, the condition of the realty market is such that not more than $50,000 could be realized from the sale, he claims, stating that that sum is not equal to the money already invested in the trust.

Default In Payments
According to the complaint on file, Wallace has served notice on Woodruff that there has been a default in the payment of taxes, assessments and other fees in connection with the trust, the deficiency amounting to $3591.39. For that reason the notice of sale is given by Wallace, it is said.

Woodruff claims that the trust itself provides that the payments in question should be made from receipts of the trust up to $10,000 and that Wallace failed to perform his trust by allowing the use of funds by O. W. Hogsett, whose interests later passed to Woodruff. Wallace also increased his own compensation above the rate allowed by the trust, Woodruff charges.

To Protect Trust
Woodruff states that he has placed $3591.39, the amount of the alleged deficiency, with the court to protect the trust against loss in the event the court should decide against him.

The trust originated when E. I. McCray, William Meredith and J. E. O'Donnell sold the tract to Hogsett, W. A. Smith and R. P. Boyer, who subdivided the tract. Wallace was made executor of the trust. Boyer and Smith later sold their interest to Hogsett, who sold to Hook brothers. Hook brothers subsequently sold their interests to Woodruff, who became beneficiary under the trust.

Woodruff claims that besides the indebtedness to the original owners, amounting to $56,667, the sum of $6000 has been spent in improving the tract and $2500 on maps. The threatened sale, he declares, would not bring in enough to cover the investment, whereas the 500 lots remaining unsold are worth $189,000. Two hundred lots have been sold, bringing $28,000, he states.

Attorney I. Henry Harris, Los Angeles, represents Woodruff.

U. S. Controller's $1650 Rugs Stir Washington Row

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Government employees who are accustomed to having the nickels and pennies trimmed off their expense accounts by Controller General McCarl read in the papers today that McCarl had acquired two new rugs for his offices at cost of $825 each.

The news spread around so rapidly and led to so much gossip that a "spokesman" for the controller general finally put out an explanation.

He said each of the rugs measured 24 by 32 feet; that the purchase was necessary in the public service since McCarl was moving into new quarters and that it wouldn't be economy in the long run to buy cheaper ones.

In conclusion it was disclosed that one cabinet member (unnamed) is using in his office a rug that cost the government $6000.

Jap Censors Cut Out Film Kisses

TOKIO, Sept. 16.—More than 800,000 feet of kisses and embraces have been cut out of films in Japan during the last year by the Japanese film censors.

A year ago, the censorship on moving pictures was centralized at Tokio, and the report of the first year's work has just been made. The censors were particularly watchful for kisses, than which nothing is more vulgar and suggestive in Japanese eyes, and every osculation was carefully trimmed out.

Screen patrons could see the hero and his beautiful opposite pursue their lips into position, and see their faces approach, but never did lip meet lip, so far as Japan is concerned.

During the war the censors scrutinized 60,000 photoplays, of a total length of 14,800,000 film feet, and trimmed the total to the even million.

According to the police report, two million people a month go to the picture houses in Japan, or 4 per cent of the number of patrons in the United States.

Court Notes

TO QUIET TITLE

H. T. Hollingsworth is plaintiff in a superior court suit brought against Loren D. Hollingsworth, as executor of the Mary C. Hollingsworth estate, to quiet title to property at Laguna Beach.

Seeks Appointment

The late Jessie M. Smith, of Brea, left an estate valued at $7500, it was shown today when her husband, Boyd R. Smith, filed a superior court petition for appointment as administrator.

The husband and seven children are heirs. The latter are Mrs. Charles McKinley, of Fullerton; Edgar L. Smith and Walter E. Smith, of Long Beach; Hugh G. Smith, Huntington Beach; Martland, Howard and Clarington Smith, of Brea.

Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus represent the petitioner.

Asks $356.18 Judgment

Harry F. Dierker, of Anaheim, was plaintiff today in suit on file in superior court against W. A. Dalzell, Charles Dalzell and Alvena Dalzell, asking judgment for $356.18 in connection with a note and an automobile sales contract. Attorney Leonard Evans represents Dierker.

Left $15,000 Estate

John P. Hanson, of Orange, has filed a petition in superior court for appointment as administrator of the $15,000 estate left by his deceased father, John Hanson, who died August 23, in Orange. The widow, Minnie Hanson, 292 South Orange street, Orange, and three children, John Hanson, Mary Lankford, of Los Angeles, and Emma Cosart, of Chico, are legal heirs. F. C. Drumm, Santa Ana, is counsel for the petitioner.

Petition Is Filed

A petition for letters of administration over the estate of the late W. B. Auxer, of Tustin, has been filed in superior court by A. A. Alderman. Attorney F. C. Drumm represents Alderman. The Auxer estate, consisting of notes and other personal property, is valued at $11,000. The widow, Ida Auxer, of Tustin, a nephew, Fred Auxer, and a niece, Mrs. Mabel Minor, of Cleveland, O., and a niece, Mrs. L. A. Loomis, of Minnesota, are the legal heirs.

MINISTER'S SON BANDIT

LEICESTER, Eng., Sept. 16.—Arthur S. Longstaff, son of a clergyman, was sentenced to prison for holding up a branch of Barclay's bank.

The second of a series of tournaments for members of the Urban Golf Club will be staged Sunday, October 3, over the links of the San Pedro Golf and Country Club at Point Firmin.

"Ike" Wentworth, president of the Urban and chairman of the tournament committee, announced today that he had completed all plans for the affair and that those planning to compete may now send in their entries to Urban headquarters at 1006 Lane Mortgage building.

The tournament, which will be 18 holes medal at handicap, will be open to all Urban members and their guests. Blind bogey will be included in the play so that all entrants will have an opportunity of coping a prize.

The San Pedro course is in wonderful shape at the present time and is being made the headquarters for Urban golfers until their own links, which is now under construction on 149-acre site near Santa Fe Springs, is completed and ready for play. This is expected about January 1.—Adv.

ESTATE VALUED AT $81,200 IS LEFT TO HEIRS

Joseph Backs, late Anaheim pioneer, left an estate valued at about $81,200, it was shown today in a petition filed in superior court to probate the will. His son, County Clerk J. M. Backs, is executor of the will and petitioner to the court. The petition was filed through Attorney Roger Dutton, of Anaheim.

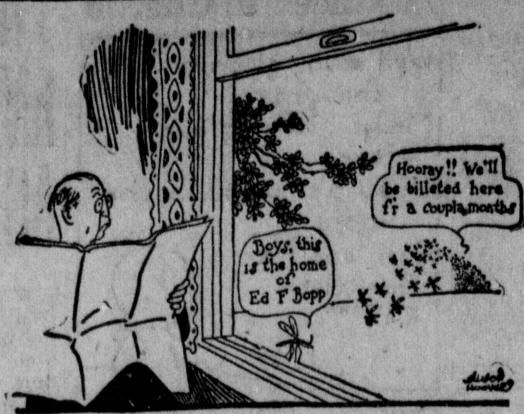

Under terms of the will, the bulk of the estate goes in equal shares to the seven sons and daughters of the deceased, including County Clerk Backs, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Sophie Stock, Mrs. Frieda Vail and Miss Clementine Backs, of Anaheim; Mrs. Katherine Backs, of Fullerton; Adolph Backs, of Pasadena, and Edward P. Backs, of Placentia.

Besides the residuary heirs, the will mentions special bequests of $1000 to Mrs. Stock and $500 to Clementine Backs, and gives these two daughters the household effects, valued at $700. The Rev. Father Patrick J. Browne, of Anaheim, the Rev. Father Francis J. Dubble, of Burbank, and two Anaheim Catholic institutions, St. Catherine's and St. Joseph's academies, were remembered in the will for smaller bequests.

The estate consists of Anaheim residence and business property, valued at $80,000, with an annual income of $3600. Cash and household furniture make up the remainder.

"The yellow can with the black band"

—because it's concentrated

Take, for example, VANILLA

VANILLA is vanilla—yes! But every housewife knows there's a day-and-night difference in the strength of vanilla extracts. In making a cake or pudding, for instance, it takes less of a high grade concentrated vanilla to flavor it than a cheap, half-strength vanilla. To say nothing of the difference in taste!

Same with coffee. "Coffee isn't just coffee." When you use M-J-B, for example, you can easily use less to the cup. It has more than the usual strength per spoonful because it's concentrated coffee!

Coffee isn't just coffee. Between a pound of so-called "cheap" coffee and a pound of M-J-B there's a heap o' difference. In fact, actual kitchen-laboratory tests have proved beyond question that M-J-B has far more body, more strength, more coffee substance.

It's concentrated coffee—that's why! There's nothing weak or half-hearted about M-J-B. Fragrance, flavor, aroma, strength—all are there not only in full measure, but extra measure. You can use less of M-J-B and still have a rich, full-flavored drink that no "cheap" coffee could hope to give you.

It is all right to buy your coffee by the pound, but it is all wrong to measure its cost that way. Measure it, rather, by its cost per cup—and you'll find M-J-B easily your best coffee-buy.

Remember, too, that the economy of M-J-B is sealed in by our patented vacuum process. Every bit of the extra strength that makes M-J-B truly economical is locked in the airtight tin. Nothing is lost; you get it all! Put it up to M-J-B and see!

Household Activities Include Knowledge Of Bridge

BELLE'S fifth household economics section members are assured of a happy and interesting year's work, following the successful launching of autumn activities at a luncheon given by the leader, Mrs. Hugh Shields and Mrs. Hugh Plumb, at the Plumb home in Tustin.

Small tables were arranged for serving the delectable menu, and were centered with clusters of exquisite little posies in pastel tints, with which minor appointments harmonized. The earlier part of the afternoon was devoted to household matters, each member responding to roll call with a labor saving hint. Economy in the administration of a home, will be the theme of the year's work and from time to time, members will present various economical and yet toothsome recipes.

Since the latter half of each monthly meeting has always been purely social and devoted to bridge, it was decided to study the game from a scientific standpoint as a legitimate household enterprise. In a bridge contest which followed, Mrs. W. H. Haddon held high score and Mrs. K. C. Kirk, low.

Four guests were entertained, Mrs. Frank Preston, a former member, Mrs. Ray Lambert, Mrs. Charles E. Bowman and Mrs. Borgmeyer. Three new members were welcomed, Mesdames J. A. Prescott, B. G. Hewitt and J. A. Meiss. The others present to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Shields and Mrs. Plumb, were Mesdames Cood Adams, Jesse Goodman, Otto Haan, W. H. Haddon, Archie V. Herr, H. Krahling, P. G. Spencer, C. A. Powers, Severin Schulte, James W. Rice, E. B. Van Meter, H. C. Kirk, C. J. Klatt and N. H. Hilton.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
Tomorrow evening many members of Santa Ana Country club will gather for the monthly bridge which has become so popular. Throughout the evening, refreshments will be served and delightful prizes have been planned for those who are lucky enough to hold special scores. It is requested that everyone be at the clubhouse promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

The Young People's Department of the First Methodist church will present a very fine musical program in the church auditorium, Friday evening the 17th. The program includes selections by Maurice Phillips, baritone; Edward Burns, cellist; the Hawaiian String trio; Hazel and Vivian Smith, piano and vocal; Justina Palmer, piano; Loreen Crodgy and Geneva Hartung; Ruth Oakes, harpist, and other local entertainers.

On account of the illness of Mrs. E. L. Morrison who was to have entertained the Third Household Economics section of Ebell at her South Birch street home next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the meeting place has been changed and the section will assemble at the Ebell clubhouse instead. It will be the first meeting of the year and Mrs. Risk of Tustin will talk on Alaska.

The Sixth Household Economics section of Ebell will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. W. D. Baker, 618 French street, instead of at Mrs. Baker's mountain home near Modjeska's as was formerly announced.

Ebell's Book Review section, which was to have met next Tuesday, will not meet until the third Tuesday in October on account of the recently introduced "vanishing luncheons" which occupy the time of the members.

Wedded in Riverside

Miss Mildred Brown and Claude Brunson, two young people of this city, were quietly married in Riverside, Sunday, September 12. On Saturday, the happy pair went to the C. T. Wiede home in La Habra where they were guests until Sunday when they left for Riverside accompanied by Miss Thelma Wiede and John Heath who were the only friends present at the wedding ceremony.

FULLERTON MAN IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT

W. L. ("Happy") Johnson, 28, a drifter for the Union Oil company and former well known Fullerton high school athlete, was expected to die momentarily at the Fullerton hospital where he was taken today after shooting himself through the right temple with a .25-caliber automatic pistol shortly before noon. Johnson shot himself while seated in an automobile in front of the residence of Mrs. John Hendry, 219 East Maple street, Fullerton. Johnson, who resides with his parents at 313 Cornell street, was regarded as one of the foremost football and track athletes in Southern California during his interscholastic career.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Capistrano Y. L. I.
Capistrano Institute, No. 104, Y. L. I. held a very well attended meeting in Knights of Columbus hall Tuesday evening, with the president, Mrs. Stella Engelman, presiding. For the first time in many months, all of the past presidents of the institute were present, including Miss Zola Powelson, Miss Clara Blesner and Mrs. Mary Maag Altmiller of Taft. They were given a hearty welcome.

One application for membership was received and initiation will be held at the first meeting in October, to prepare for the coming of the grand president. A large drill team will also be formed by Miss Clara Blesner for the occasion. Miss Zola Powelson was elected chairman of the board of trustees to take the place of Miss Helena Lieberman, who was elected treasurer. Final arrangements were made for the dancing party to be held tonight in the hall, the first of a series to be given the third Thursday of each month during the winter.

At the close of the meeting, the good of the order committee served ice cream lollipops during a pleasant social period.

Mite Box Opening
The Woman's Foreign Missionary auxiliary of the First Methodist Episcopal church combined the regular meeting with the annual mite box opening which was in charge of Mrs. W. R. Freeman, mite box secretary.

Mrs. W. B. Snow opened the devotional hour with a helpful talk on the subject, "The Upper Room."

The president, Mrs. Horton Palmer, asked that the offerings of money to be sent as a Christmas gift for the society's own Miss Doris Welles, be brought to the October meeting. Miss Welles uses her gift to procure medicines and comforts for the people in her mission field in India.

A surprise was in store for Mrs. Palmer, the much loved president, when Mrs. Will A. Betts gave a most beautiful eulogy of the ten years of faithful work which has been carried on in absolute sincerity by Mrs. Palmer, who will be succeeded in office by Mrs. John Clarkson. Mrs. Betts spoke earnestly of the great influence on the lives of all the auxiliary members and of the success of the work so ably carried on by Mrs. Palmer, of her wonderful talent for detail, all worked out ahead of time in her mind to make the work more perfect. She spoke of the dreams that she dreamed during the years of such great work and of the dreams realized, and closed with a poem on "Life's Dreams."

Mrs. W. C. Baker then asked Mrs. Palmer to accept, on behalf of the whole auxiliary, a basket of very lovely pink cactus dahlias as an expression of real love. Mrs. Palmer, in accepting the gift, spoke of the expression, "the soul of Jonathan being knit to the soul of David," and said that truly the souls of her co-workers during the ten years of auxiliary work were knit together in great love and that more than half a century ago was the hearty warm approval of a friend.

James Hughes, accompanied by Mrs. Hughes, at the piano, gave a beautiful solo entitled "Not a Sparrow Falteth," by Gilbert.

An original and clever mite box demonstration was given by Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. French and Miss Jessie Millar dressed to represent mite boxes and Mrs. W. C. Baker dressed as a ghost to represent the empty mite boxes.

Completing the prescribed reading course for the year, seven members answered the 25 questions. Mrs. Baker acting as examiner. During the social hour which followed, delicious punch and home-made cakes were served.

Delta Alpha Class
Balboa Island was Mecca for Delta Alpha class members of the First M. E. Sunday school, last Monday night, when the Misses Olive and Bertha Briney planned a delightful party at the Briney cottage on the island.

It was a surprise dish supper, each member adding one covered dish to the menu. The enjoyable supper was followed by a moonlight stroll on the beach and that in turn, by a business session conducted by the president, Miss Esther Henriksen.

Those enjoying the evening with the sister hostesses included Miss Grace Grigsby, Miss Esther Henriksen, Miss Mamie Lamb, Miss Clara Barnes, Miss Gertrude Richardson, Miss Beulah Stone, Miss Minnie Daubendick, Miss Ida Reed, Miss Olive Briney, Miss Minnie Wild, Miss Nellie O'Brien, Miss Charlotte Carhart, Miss Alma Stewart, Miss Maude Thomas, Miss Alta Thomas, Miss Biglow, Miss Burt, Mrs. and Mrs. V. L. Steward, Mrs. Briney and Mrs. Poor who is a friend of Mrs. Briney's from Kansas.

Presbyterian Aid
The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church held its monthly all-day meeting yesterday at the church. Members who were present in the morning devoted their time to sewing for the Red Cross and to quilting.

At noon a delicious luncheon was served.

S. A. Traveler Enjoys Quaint Experiences In Honolulu

ARM interest on the part of friends of Miss Ella Neely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Neely, 303 East Eighth street, has attended her plans to spend a year in Hawaii and study at the university there.

Miss Neely sailed recently from Los Angeles harbor on the S. S. Calawall and reached Honolulu on September 4 in time to witness the all-territory racing regatta as well as other interesting events of the early autumn. The passengers on the Calawall were given a typical Hawaiian reception, flowers and music being featured in the "Aloha" extended as the steamer docked.

Miss Neely had many interesting fellow passengers, including two famous stage stars, Margaret Anglin and Blanche Bates, who were delighted with the experience of tossing coins into the ocean for the native boys to dive for. The boys swam out to meet the Calawall as it entered the harbor, and Miss Neely, like all the passengers aboard, took keen interest in the antics of the swimmers as they went through their diving and swimming feats.

Merry House-Party At Forest Home

Planning a week's enjoyment of Forest Home, Mrs. James O'Brien, Mrs. L. Crasher, and Mrs. Hansbarger left yesterday for the popular summer resort where they will be guests in the Sturgeon cabin. Mrs. Crasher recently underwent an attack of pneumonia just following an extended automobile trip. So the mountain stay will be especially beneficial for her. The Sturgeon summer home is a particularly attractive one, where the family and friends spend a great part of the summer season.

Messrs. D. W. Sturgeon, James O'Brien and L. Crasher will join the party Saturday and remain over the week-end.

was served by the southwest section of the society. The luncheon was followed by the business meeting when Miss Louise Brokaw was elected secretary to take the place of Miss Edith Ward who resigned. Miss Cynthia Davis, treasurer, gave a report and Mrs. Anna Mitchell gave an interesting account of the meeting of the Federated Aid society which was held recently in Hollywood.

A delightful program had been arranged. Mrs. H. Pollock rendered a piano solo, "Polonaise de Mignon." Mrs. Elizabeth Clark then proceeded with the devotional service when she chose "Home Coming" as the subject for her brief talk. Mrs. Clark complimented Mrs. W. E. Roberts, who will leave soon for Los Angeles, on the work accomplished by her in making of the church a real home.

Mrs. H. M. Sammis sang several numbers which included "There Is No Place Like Home" and "In Heavenly Peace Abiding." She was accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Sammis and Mrs. H. N. Brothers sang the federation song. Mrs. Hale gave a reading, "Unawares."

National Convention Of Temperance Folk In Los Angeles

In the belief that the next presidential campaign will be fought out entirely along wet and dry lines, Mrs. Ella A. Boole, New York City, national president W. C. T. U., today sent out a final message to the delegates to the 52nd annual convention of the W. C. T. U., Los Angeles, Calif., September 26 to October 2, to attend the convention prepared to make up a plan to carry on the fight against modification of the Volstead Act or nullification of the 18th amendment.

In her message, Mrs. Boole said: "Despite the announcement of Representative Tilson of Connecticut, and other political managers of campaigns now in progress that 'prohibition has no part in politics,' American voters are lining up on one side or the other of the prohibition question and all major political strategy is directed toward that division. The next congress will be dry if every dry voter votes on election day; but after that the association against the prohibition amendment will reorganize for a final assault on the 18th amendment. Their aim will be to elect a wet president and it is to avert that possible calamity that the W. C. T. U. convention will bend its efforts."

Young people will have a large part in the convention program and will formally present the patriotic roll signed by more than half a million young men and women of high school and college years. Signing the patriotic roll means that the signer agrees to uphold the constitution of the United States and assist law enforcement in the community.

A featured event of the convention will be the children's pageant, which will be a vivid and colorful interpretation of the recent statement of President Calvin Coolidge: "Every child should be taught reverence for nature, reverence for law and reverence for God." This pageant will be presented by 1000 children and 200 young people. Pat Neff, ex-governor of Texas, will address the convention Sunday evening, September 25. Senator Ernestina Alvarado of Mexico, president of the Mexican W. C. T. U., will speak on World's night. Miss Anna A. Gordon, president of the World's W. C. T. U., Mrs. Margaret C. Munns, world's treasurer and Dr. Valeria H. Parker, president of the National Council of Women, will also speak.

"Canada's Experiments in Liquor Control" will be the subject of an address by Dr. W. W. Peck, educational secretary of the Prohibition Federation of Canada. Mrs. Mary Harris ARMOR, the "Georgia Cyclone," Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, Mrs. Eva G. Wheeler, president of the W. C. T. U. of Southern California, F. W. Richardson, governor of California, George W. Cryer, mayor of Los Angeles, and leaders of national and California women's organizations and clubs, will address sessions of the convention.

The central feature of the exhibit prepared for the Sesqui-Centennial will be on display at the convention church, as will exhibits of twenty departments of W. C. T. U. work, including Child Welfare, Americanization, Legislation, Social Morality, Scientific Temperance Instruction, Soldiers and Sailors and Economics of Prohibition.

Kitchen Shower Adds Much Equipment to Bridal Chest

AMONG the numerous pre-nuptial courtesies shown Miss Clara Kramer, who will be the bride of Burhl R. Wing, in the near future, was the surprise kitchen shower given for her last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. U. J. Engelman, 1032 Kilson Drive, by Capistrano Institute, Y. L. I. Miss Gretchen Lieberman assisted Mrs. Engelman in her hostess duties. Twenty-one members were in attendance.

A delicate yellow and white color motif was prettily carried out with golden-rod and asters, artistically arranged in baskets. The merry company enjoyed the game of hearts during the first part of the evening, the honoree very appropriately winning the first prize and Mrs. Antonia Sandoz the consolation.

Miss Kramer was delighted with the many household utensils of all kinds presented to her by her friends, who accompanied their gifts with hosts of good wishes for her future happiness.

Delicious refreshments were served on the small tables, centered with small baskets of the predominating blossoms. The nut cups were yellow, the ice cream was yellow and white and the individual angel food cakes were iced in the same colors.

Those participating in the joys of the event, besides the hostesses and honoree, were Mesdames William A. Maag, John Maag, Florence Schorle, Charles Borchard, Harry Edwards, J. P. Murphy, Nick Brock, Ed Kolbe, E. L. Flannigan, Antonio Sardon, E. J. Vosskuhler, William Altmiller of Taft, and the Misses Helen Young, Ada Markel, Willabelle Gohre, Anne and Helena Lieberman and Zola Powelson.

Estates of Equal Value Are Left By Two Brothers

Two brothers, whose deaths occurred two days apart, left estates of exactly equal value, it was shown today when George W. Harris petitioned superior court for appointment as administrator of both estates, each valued at $3250. The estates concern property at El Toro, in which the brothers, it is said, held an equal interest. Jose Serrano, one of the brothers, died July 29. Joaquin F. Serrano, the other, died July 31. Their estates go to five brothers and sisters, F. J. Serrano, Leandro Serrano, Alfonso Serrano, John Serrano and Nina Serrano, all of El Toro.

Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, Santa Ana, represent the petitioner.

THINKS WOMAN SHOULD SEEK CAPITOL POST

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Lady Nancy Astor, Virginia-born member of the British parliament, thinks the Democrats should nominate a woman for president of the United States in 1928.

"I don't believe they will do it," she said in a speech before 1500 members of the League of Women Voters, at the Waldorf Astoria, "but it would be amusing if they would."

Lady Astor, introduced by Owen D. Young as "the most distinguished woman in politics in the world," and "one of the most fascinating figures of our time," is convinced that women have made great progress recently in the rapidly changing world of the past few years.

"No longer are women classed for political purposes with criminals, paupers and lunatics," she added, "no longer are they classed as weaklings physically. Look at the channel swimmers. And the women have had another triumph since then. I read of a lady in Rhode Island who managed to consume two pecks of clams and ate every man under the table, showing our digestive organs as well as our muscles are superior to man's."

Woman's progress in politics has been made despite male opposition, she thinks, for "the machine politician doesn't like women. They can't be counted on, they are an unknown quantity. So it would seem that women are still up to their old tricks of keeping men guessing. Well, it is better to keep them guessing than be led blindly by them."

As for flappers, she doesn't quite know what they are, unless the term means the modern young woman, whom Lady Astor considers more venturesome but quite as virtuous as their grandmothers.

Lady Astor said that the progress of women was a great cause of rejoicing to her.

RALPH SMEDLEY TO GIVE RADIO TALKS

Speaking over KFON, Long Beach, R. C. Smedley, general secretary of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., will be on the air two Friday nights, presenting talks on memory training. Tomorrow night, from 7 to 7:30, he will give a general discussion of the fundamentals of improving the memory. The following Friday he will offer several practical methods of memory development.

Smedley's work as a teacher of memory training methods, most of which has been done at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., has attracted considerable attention and has resulted in the invitation for his radio talks.

During the month of October, he is to give a course in memory training in the Y. M. C. A. here which will be available to all in this vicinity who are interested.

Publisher Dies

ED E. LEAKE

WOODLAND, Calif., Sept. 16.—Ed E. Leake, 76, publisher of the Woodland Democrat and for 53 years a well known central California newspaperman, died here today.

Death followed a long period of failing health, but only during the last few weeks had Leake been bedfast.

Besides his newspaper activities, Leake was appraiser of the port in San Francisco during the Wilson administration, served in both houses of the California legislature and was commissioner of public works under Governor Budd.

A widow and two sons survive. The funeral will be held at 10 a. m., Saturday.

JAPANESE FATALLY HURT IN RUNAWAY

B. Takama, 40, a Japanese farmer, employed by the Havens Seed company, died in the Santa Ana hospital last night from injuries received when his horses ran away and dragged a wagon, heavily loaded with tomatoes, across his body, on the Brown ranch, a few miles from San Juan Capistrano Hot Springs.

Takama, who was rushed to the hospital in the Winbiger ambulance, died about an hour after his arrival there.

County Coroner C. D. Brown said he would hold an inquest into the circumstances surrounding the farmer's death in the Winbiger funeral home at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The body now is being held in the Winbiger establishment.

TENT TO HOUSE SAN CLEMENTE SCHOOL PUPILS

Memories of the early pioneer days, when schools were conducted in tents, huts and other temporary structures, were brought to mind today with the announcement, by County Superintendent R. P. Mitchell, that an emergency school, composed of one teacher and 10 children, has been opened on the San Clemente subdivision, located on the San Diego highway, about six miles south of Serra.

Miss Bernice Hayward, formerly connected with the Jefferson school, of the Santa Ana city school district, has been appointed teacher in the school, which will be housed in an old army wall tent.

The establishment of this school was made mandatory upon the school superintendent unless transportation facilities were provided the students from San Clemente to Serra, where the nearest school is located, a distance of about six miles.

In this connection, it was announced by Superintendent Mitchell that plans have been completed by the Ole Hanson syndicate for the construction of a modern school building, valued at $25,000.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVANCE TO BE DISCUSSED

The annual Armistice day celebration, reports on the Susanville convention and the Orange County fair, changes in by-laws and other matters will be discussed at tomorrow night's meeting in the Santa Ana Legion hall, when delegates from all legion posts in the county will gather for their monthly session, according to Frank Mason, adjutant of the Orange county inter-post council.

A dinner, served by the Santa Ana auxiliary, will precede the business meeting, and 50 delegates, from the legion posts of Anaheim, Brea, Fullerton, Garden Grove, La Habra, Newport Beach, Orange, Huntington Beach and Santa Ana, as well as representatives of Calumit camp, United Spanish War veterans, are expected to attend.

Wilbur K. Getty, past commander of the Orange county council, will make his first official appearance before the county body, in his new capacity as area commander of the fifth district, a new office created at this year's state convention in Susanville. Delegates from the Santa Ana post are Com. Jules W. Markel, G. K. Scovel, B. C. Chapman, S. J. McCalla, E. R. Kolbe, C. A. Cramer, Joseph A. Plank, Wilbur K. Getty, Carl Edgar, Franklin West, William Tichenal, Tom Scudder and Adj. Elmer Schaniel.

Thieves' Bureau Gives Members Gem Information

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Armed with the confession of one of the trio, detectives here groped for details of national information service which enabled three bandits to obtain nearly $500,000 in diamonds by holding up three salesmen on an Illinois Central train.

Their information was from George Brown, of Chicago, held with Oliver Berg of Chicago and Harry Linard of Butte, Mont., under total bonds of $900,000 at Champaign, Ill., where the bandits left the train and fled across the country.

Brown said he knew nothing of the plans in advance but that when the trio boarded the train here they were in a compartment next to that of the three salesmen. Linard then detailed their moves. Brown said, and everything worked so smoothly that the robbery was completed just in time to permit them to alight at Champaign.

Chicago police declared Berg an associate of gem thieves and indicated belief that he has been an operative of an underworld organization keeping track of jewelry-men's movements. Three millions in gem robberies here is charged to such a unit.

The bandits were arraigned and held to the grand jury in Champaign after being captured by a posse of farmers and sheriffs who found the trio in a hay mow near Loda, Ill., 12 hours after the robbery. They were forced to flee afoot when an over-heated motor halted their hired automobile.

The stolen gems were recovered from their cache under the scales of the village stockyards and checked at Champaign by the salesmen, Joseph Riskin of New York and William Davidson and Morris Minsky of San Francisco.

Auto Engine Run With Grain Dust

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Grain dust taken from a grain elevator has been found to have sufficient explosive power to run an automobile engine.

Department of agriculture chemists who conducted tests, announced that while the engine did not make any prolonged, continuous run, enough power was developed with the dust to turn it over many times. A hand system of feeding the dust through a tube to the intake valve was employed.

The experimenters said the study gave "encouraging results which indicated the possibilities of designing an engine to use grain dust as the source of fuel."

CHRYSLER MODEL NUMBERS MEAN MILES PER HOUR

The First National Grew Up WITH Santa Ana

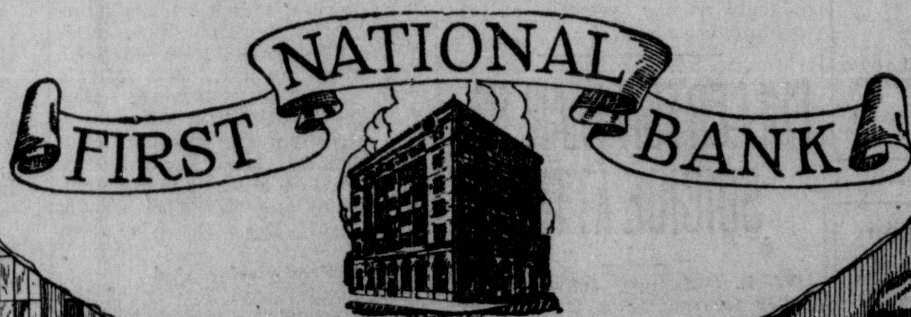

Santa Ana's sorrows and joys have been the First National Bank's sorrows and joys from the days when the pioneers used an old fashioned plow to level the ground humps at Fourth and Main Streets!

Shade trees grew in front of the Bank, the chief furnishings of the main banking room were spittoons, there was a law against "driving at a fast and furious pace exceeding six miles per hour," needs were few, but—HOPES WERE MIGHTY!

The pioneers paved the way for great days; the Bank laid the ground work for a great banking institution—and all dreams have come true!

The Bank has grown WITH Santa Ana, and has necessarily kept a step ahead in modern banking service. The greatest chapters in the Bank's history are written upon its service to the BUILDERS of Santa Ana.

Our pride is inseparable from Santa Ana's pride—and both have just cause.

Deposits over $9,000,000.00; resources are about $12,000,000.00; total resources of the First National and Farmers and Merchants are over Fourteen and One-Quarter Millions! Strength means Safety!

One Thin Woman Gained 10 Pounds In 20 Days

Skinny Men Can Do the Same

All weak men and women. All nervous men and women. All skinny men and women. Can grow stronger, healthier and more vigorous and take on solid needed flesh in 30 days just by taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets four times a day—as easy to take as candy. And what a hit these flesh producing tablets have made. One druggist tripped his sales in one week. Everybody knows that nasty-tasting evil-smelling Cod Liver Oil is a wonderful vitalizer, flesh producer and health creator. But who wants to swallow the horrible stuff, when these wonderful tablets—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, are just as good and so easy to take. A box of 60 tablets for 60 cents—and if any skinny man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days—money back. Ask any druggist. Be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine, and don't forget there is nothing on earth so good to make backward, listless, underweight children grow strong and robust. Adv.

Volck Spray

The enormous consumption of VOLCK spray on orange trees, the past two seasons in Orange County, has fully proven its worth and wonderful economy. There is no longer any question about its killing efficiency. It does kill the scale, and furthermore kills the red spider, and leaves the tree in nice healthy shape. Volck is very economical to use, as five gallons will make three hundred gallons of spray liquid. If you do your own work the material will cost you from ten to fifty cents per tree, depending on the size of the tree and the quantity in which you buy the VOLCK. We carry VOLCK in sizes from pints to barrels.

A gentleman from Garden Grove was in Tuesday, who says he got a better kill on four hundred four-year-old trees this year with VOLCK costing him $28, than he got last year with a fumigation that cost $130. He did his own work.

Don't worry about the scales on your trees. Use Volck.

YOUTHS SOUGHT FOR ADMISSION TO WEST POINT

Is there in Orange county a young man with ambition to become an admiral in the navy or a general in the army?

Congressman Phil Swing wants to know this—he wants to know if there is such a lad in his congressional district, which includes Orange county. He is ambitious to develop a man of this type from his district.

Swing's ambition is indicated in a letter he has written to J. P. Baumgartner, editor of The Register, with reference to civil service examinations for selection of a candidate to enter the U. S. military academy at West Point, next June. The congressman will have the privilege of naming a candidate from his district, and his selection, he intimates, will be based on the mental qualifications of an applicant. He will not countenance "political pull" in favor of any young man who may enter the contest, he intimates. Examinations will be held throughout the district on October 22.

In his letter, the congressman says: "I have always felt that cadets to both the naval and military academy should be chosen on merit, and not by political influence. I want every boy who has an ambition along this line to be given an equal chance without regard to 'pull,' just as I want my district to secure the best possible material from which to make its future admirals and generals."

"From those rating the highest, according to educational standards as shown by the examination, I shall then ask for additional information as to physical and moral qualifications, and as to natural ability for leadership. The one making the best all-round showing will be nominated for admission to West Point. The candidates must, at the date of admission, be between the ages of 17 and 22 years."

"The U. S. civil service commission requires those who intend to take the examination, to get a letter from me, and this I will be glad to give to any boy interested who is a resident of my district, together with detailed information regarding the examination."

DR. EDMUND MILLS
IN L. A. HOSPITAL

The condition of Dr. Edmund M. Mills, 2429 Poinsettia street, who underwent an operation Monday in the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles, is reported to be favorable and he is expected to be able to return to his home here in about 10 days.

Dr. Mills is a new resident of Santa Ana, having moved here about one year ago from Syracuse, N. Y. Since making his home in Santa Ana, he has been instrumental in arousing interest in a rose society and a public rose garden.

Dr. Mills is scheduled to give a short course of lectures this fall at the Y. M. C. A., on the subject of rose culture. Dr. Mills at one time was president of the American Rose society.

Australia and California Have Similar History

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Though separated by thousands of miles, California and Australia have much in common, due to the great gold rushes which gave each its big start toward wealth and power.

Sir Joseph Carruthers, Sydney, widely known political figure in the Antipodes and a member of the New South Wales assembly, brought this fact out on his arrival on his first visit to the United States.

"Historically California's and Australia's struggles were the same. Fortunately for Australia, California's great gold rush of '49 preceded ours. After our gold fever subsided, we in Australia turned to California's history and imitated her by going into agricultural pursuits. "Irrigation, a big problem in Australia, also was patterned after that of California. We first made the mistake of planting only stoned fruits. But again we looked to California and found proper substitutes in citrus fruits and grapes."

'Kicking Post' Is Established To Aid Citizens

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 14.—A "kicking post" has been established here for citizens who desire to register complaints about the way the city is run.

Under a new city ordinance, a central bureau of public relations has been created with a clerk in charge to receive all complaints about the city government.

The scheme was devised by the city commissioners to facilitate and co-ordinate complaints of Alhambra citizens.

The clerk, after studying the complaints, turns them over to the heads of the departments assailed. The city expects to work out a better system of government with the "kicking post's" aid.

FIRST ISSUE OF COLLEGE PAPER IS PUBLISHED

Under the new name of "The Don," the first issue of the Santa Ana junior college weekly newspaper appeared on the campus today. Raymond Grist, has been appointed editor of the first semester, according to Theodore Jesse, commissioner of publication.

Staff organization was completed at a meeting of the journalism students at noon today in the student body office.

The students selected for staff positions are Melvin Harter, assistant editor; Judson Harmon, business manager; Allen Goddard, sports editor; Miss Thelma Patton, women's sports editor; Julius Yale, jokes; Miss June Goodwin and Miss Charlotte Harnois, personals.

This year for the first time a journalism course is being offered at the Santa Ana junior college. Cecil Stewart, with experience on the Redlands University "Campus," is instructor. The students of the journalism class will write for the paper.

The publication is to be the same size as last year's, Grist said. Among the junior colleges of the Southland, Santa Ana is recognized as having the best paper from a journalistic standpoint.

The change in name was decided in order to carry the Spanish traditions, adopted by the college, in effect. Formerly the paper was known as "The News."

Bug Blamed for Domestic Scene; Earwig Escapes

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 14.—There is one more reason supporting Portland's contention, now, that earwigs should be exterminated, according to Mike Sokol.

Mike's complaint is that a pesky little earwig came close to shattering his reputation as a good husband and peace loving man.

Mrs. Sokol is very nervous and afraid of bugs, and one day when an earwig scooted across the front room floor she leaped atop a chair and screamed. In the meantime Mike started in the pursuit of the bug. Neighbors heard the screams and called police, thinking a domestic row was in progress.

Mike didn't even have the satisfaction of killing the earwig, which got away and so far as is known, is now doing nicely.

Girls to Hold Big Foot Derby For Gold Prize

BERKELEY, Sept. 14.—Sigma Chi boys, for no reason, offered to the University of California sorority the pledging co-eds with the biggest feet, in the aggregate, a cigarette tray fashioned to resemble a slipper as consolation prize.

The proffered tray being of gold, the idea roused spirited competition rather than indignation.

First returns gave the Delta Gammas a decisive victory, but the Alpha Xi Delta filed a deposition claiming that of 10 girls pledged, the foot measurements totaled 100 inches. Then the Kappa Kappa Gammas countered with the assertion that one of its members had one entrant alone whose foot measured 12 inches, in the nude.

As a result, the "foot derby" will be run again with 448 more or less dainty feet competing.

BUILDERS' QUERIES ANSWERED

By Southern California Chapter, Associated General Contractors of America

Q: Will you please give me the estimated difference in the cost of a frame house, well constructed, and a house of common brick construction?

A: Assuming that both houses are finished with the same class of material and similar in design, it is estimated that a brick house will cost about seven per cent more. It is true that in some instances, the percentage may be greater, depending upon the construction of the building. Figures submitted recently for the erection of a five-room dwelling show a difference of seven per cent more for brick than frame construction.

Q: Will you please tell me what is meant by the "Telford system" of home building?

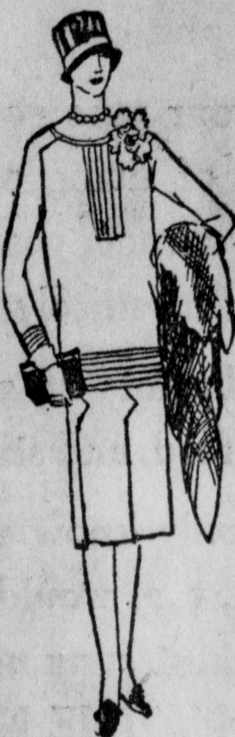

A: The "Telford system" is an all-steel type of dwelling house that has been designed by J. C. Telford, of London, England, which differs from other dwellings of steel construction in that no steel or wooden frame work is required, the steel walls themselves being of box form that are self-supporting. Q: I put in what I thought was an exceptionally good foundation for a six-room bungalow a few months ago and now I find that it

Reinforce Glands To Keep Young Says Scientist

DR. ARNOLD LORAND of Austria says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands: "We must insist upon the reinforcement of their functions if changed by age or disease by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Hundreds of men and women who are weak, worn-out and run-down, are taking Glandogen to awaken the devitalized glands, so they may continue their normal function of supplying the vital glandular secretions so necessary to physical energy and perfect health. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. C. S. Kelley Drug Store will supply you.—Adv.

IMBECILE GIRL IS TIED TO POST NEARLY 4 YEARS

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 16.—Tied to a post for nearly four years in a tin shack 5 feet by 7, Aurelia Jacova, 14 years old, was adjudged insane by Judge Gerald Jones and ordered committed to the state hospital for the insane at Phoenix.

The action came six hours after Pat Higgins, probation officer, had found the child lying in filth of indescribable nature in the shack, which adjoins the home of her father, Jesus Jacova, in the Fort Lowell district.

The child, lying flat on her stomach and clad only in a short blue gingham dress, only emitted grunts and babbling noises as the court questioned the father and a neighbor woman.

Child Born Imbecile
According to the story told by the father, the child was born an imbecile, and for nearly four years he has been forced to tie the child up to keep her from running away. She is possessed with a mania for fire and on several occasions she has been caught in the act of setting fire to homes nearby, the father said.

The girl is about 4 feet 5 inches tall and weighs about 35 pounds. Most of the time she lay flat on her stomach, but when lifted up she remained standing only as long as held there. When let go she dropped to her hands, crouching and grunting. Her legs showed remarkable flexibility, enabling her to crawl or rather walk on all fours in the same position as any four-legged creature. In this position and standing up hopping in much the same way as a kangaroo, the child attained considerable speed, when allowed to run loose, making it difficult to catch her.

Without Mental Faculties
Drs. E. J. Gotthelf and S. P. Norris made a physical examination and declared she was suffering from "amentia," meaning born without mental faculties.

Authorities explained that the father, who is nearly 60 years old, had done the best he could, and was unaware that the condition in which the child lived were not all right. The mother has been dead for about 10 years, the father said.

The child was to be taken to Phoenix by the father and sister, in company with a deputy sheriff.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—New York state is worrying the Republican congressional campaign managers considerably.

Their party there is split wide open.

They have until September 22—the date of the Republican state convention—to put it together again, but they seem to be making very little progress toward doing so.

On the other hand, the Democrats while divided nationally, don't appear to be divided at all, so far as New York state is concerned.

And New York state, of all states, is the most important politically. The Republican managers not only object to losing Senator Wadsworth, but if they do lose him, Republican chances in the state in 1928 will be anything but improved and no party can well spare New York's 45 electoral votes in a presidential fight.

Senator Wadsworth, though his party managers want him re-elected, gets the blame for the awkward position in which New York Republicans find themselves.

Wadsworth always was considered rather modest, but he voted for the Volstead act, and if he hadn't said anything about the wet-and-dry issue, dry New York Republicans probably wouldn't have bolted him in the coming senatorial contest.

It looked to him, however, as if the Democrats were sure to put up a wet against him at their convention September 27. It was his opinion that, in a clash between an out-and-out wet and even a pussy-foot candidate, New York state would elect the wet, so he made up his mind not to let anybody outdo him in wetness.

That's what split his party.

Wadsworth will be renominated September 22 all right. Everybody concedes that he'll have a majority in the Republican convention, but it won't be unanimous, by a long shot. The dries will bolt and put up F. W. Cristman as an independent dry Republican.

If Cristman would draw equally from Democrats and Republicans this wouldn't be so bad, from a Republican standpoint.

Whereas, however, there is a good sized up-state dry element in the New York Republican party, among the Democrats, whose strength is in New York City, the dries are a negligible consideration.

That the latter will nominate a wet—even if it isn't Al Smith—is a foregone conclusion.

As between Republicans and Democrats, New York state is always doubtful. With all the Democrats voting one way and the Republicans dividing their vote between two candidates, there can't be any reasonable doubt concerning the outcome.

Then the next step.

Say, for the sake of argument, that Al Smith carries the state of New York for the senate. His prestige and the eastern wets' prestige, within the ranks of the Democracy, will be increased enormously. If Smith was strong in the 1924 Democratic national convention, his strength will be doubled in the convention of 1928.

SEEK KIN OF HEROES KILLED IN WORLD WAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Aid of newspapers in all parts of the United States is being enlisted by the army in search for relatives of three war heroes who have been awarded the distinguished service medal.

The three heroes, killed in action, were Private Edward G. Mason, of Detroit, Sgt. Carl C. Cartor, of Fresno, Calif., and Private Frank Arkman, of Bellingham, Minn. They were awarded the medals posthumously. If the relatives are found the decorations will be given them.

Besides newspapers, the army will use the radio, Boy Scouts, citizen soldiers, veterans' organizations and missing persons bureau of police departments in its search. Private Mason was a member of Company D, Fifty-fifth infantry; Sergeant Cartor belonged to Company A of the Seventh infantry and Private Arkman served in Company L of the 305th infantry.

Practically all religious sects believe that at one time there was on earth a great Prophet, or Christ. This was evidenced the other day when Cecil B. De Mille started work on "The King of Kings," a life story of Christ. Ten clergymen, all of different denominations, including the Mohammedan and Buddhist were present at the ceremony. While differing in their opinions as to who the Christ was, each admitted that such a man lived at one time.

Roscoe ("Patty") Arbuckle and his wife, formerly Doris Deane, have an almost certain remedy for divorces. Each of them deposits $5000 in a joint bank account every year. If there is any trouble the one starting divorce proceedings forfeits his, or her, share of the money. "A person would be nearly as apt to fly off in a rage with so much money involved," declared Arbuckle.

One of the best things they do out here where celluloid was made famous is to change titles on pictures. Seldom is a picture released under the title decided upon when production is started. Red Grange's "The Halfback," the most recent example of these changes, will be released as "One Minute to Play."

Dolores Del Rio forsook Mexico City's social set for Hollywood and a film career. There's no doubt that the black-haired beauty has made good. It's rumored that she will play the lead in the filming of Count Tolstoy's "Resurrection."

At a recent reunion of Teddy Roosevelt's famous Rough Riders, one of the men started telling a story of the old Spanish War days. After talking for 10 minutes he was just ready to spring the "point" of the yarn when he happened to glance toward the end of the table and saw Grace Williams, cinema scrivener, sitting there. After turning about four colors in turn, the story-teller stammered, "I—, I—, I'm afraid I can't finish the story now."

C. B. Doucett, who invented the airpne parachute, and Carl Gelze, who made the first drop with the new attachment, give much credit for the device to Jesse L. Lasky. If Lasky hadn't supplied the money for experiments the parachute would not have been perfected for many years, they claim.

I talked to Gelze immediately after he reached the earth from his 2500-foot fall. "I wasn't in the least scared because I had faith in the parachute but I was eager to see how it worked," he told me.

TERMINAL TO CHANGE
PASCO, Wn., Sept. 16.—Beginning October 1, the southern terminal of the Elko-Pasco air mail route will be changed from Elko to Salt Lake City, it was announced here by Walter T. Varney, contractor for the route, which serves the Pacific northwest. The arrangement is to be temporary, he said, until March 31.

Eat right—keep well. See the demonstration and talk with our dietitians, Gerrard Bros., 304 E. 4th.

Pipe Dreams---

An idle fancy! A foolish vision which calls for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, to satisfy.

Palaces of marble! Chariots of gold! Wing footed servants at your beck and call.

Then your pipe goes out and you are back to earth again, to hard, cold facts of living and making both ends meet. You have such dreams, you know you do, and so do I. They are nice and comfortable but they are entirely too frothy for human existence.

Your chariots of gold turn into a means of transportation which you can afford, and still have other good things of life as you go along.

If you only know what hundreds of thousands of other people know, you, too, would be right now investigating the snappiest looking, smoothest running, easiest handled, most economical automobile in the world, "THE NEW SMOOTH CHEVROLET."

You dream of a big expensive car you cannot afford. In a great big measure you can realize your dream in THE NEW SMOOTH CHEVROLET and have a lot of money left over. Possibly you do not believe me. Well, I'll make you a proposition. I'll put my time against yours and furnish the car and the gasoline and you take a ride, and if you are not the most astonished human after a few miles drive, you will be the one big outstanding exception.

384,000 cars built and sold, to satisfied owners, the first six months of this year—ask them and they will tell you of their satisfaction. Ten million dollars now being spent for additional factories to build 1000 MORE cars per day to meet the tremendous demand.

Chevrolet's rapid climb to perfection, gives you more automobile for $800.00 (closed models) than you could get a very few years ago for $2000. Think this over and investigate. Hundreds of thousands of SATISFIED OWNERS find THE NEW CHEVROLET good enough for them—and so will you. My time against yours and I'll prove it to you.

If you are dreaming in the past, it's time to wake up and find out for yourself what is happening to save you money. If you are now thinking of the old type Chevrolet, you are living and thinking in the stone age of automobile advancement. A new day has arrived in automobile construction and design, a revelation in looks and performance.

QUIT DREAMING. Wake up and investigate.

IDEAS and Ideals

A. V. NAPIER

Those who are anxious to see the general interests of Southern California promoted, will do well, it is believed, to give some attention to the continued improvement of the California school system. It was noted this year, at the opening of school, that a large number of people from the middle west had added their children to the hosts of students in the local schools. Some of them, according to their own statements, are here because the California school system is recognized to be superior in many respects to any state system in America.

The cost of maintaining the California schools, and the expense of continually erecting new school buildings and equipping them, is great, but the average taxpayer who is called upon to foot the bills, is getting his money's worth, not only in the service rendered by the schools directly, but by the increase in property values where new schools are built, and through the general prosperity that is always spread about when new people take up their residence in the community. There are no more desirable people than those who are interested in giving their children superior educational advantages.

While the principal attraction which California schools have for non-residents is the educational system itself, there are other features of school life in Southern California that are given consideration. One of these things is the beauty of the school buildings and grounds. It is believed that the association in beautiful surroundings will develop a taste for the artistic. Such charming surroundings also are thought to be conducive to cheerfulness.

Another important factor in attracting eastern people to the schools of Southern California is the fact that frail children, as a rule, have better health here, where there are more winter days suitable for out-door play. One mother, formerly from a middle-western state, said that before coming to California, her children were threatened with lung trouble, as a result of "catching cold" following the first snow of the season.

In the opinion of one "new-comer," the California school children are better protected from street traffic. California motorists have learned to respect the street warnings calling for cautious driving at the approach of school grounds.

In Los Angeles a few years ago, a tunnel was built under Sunset boulevard, to protect school children from the traffic. Since that time, 20 similar tunnels have been put under construction, to be used not only by students, but by pedestrians in general. A contract has recently been given by the angel city for the construction of 17 more such sub-ways.

S. A. BUILDING ORDINANCE IS OUT OF DATE. SAYS DECKER

Code Drafted By Pacific Coast Body to be Studied At San Jose Next Week

CONSTRUCTION COST CUT IS PREDICTED

Local Inspector Will Be Present At Convention Of City Officials

Of interest to Orange county builders is the announcement today by J. E. Mackie, secretary of the Pacific Coast Building Officials' conference, made up of the leading construction officials on the coast, that the proposed uniform code of the conference will reduce construction costs.

Such reduction will be possible because the better and more uniform quality of building materials which are now being manufactured allow of higher stresses being placed on them and the new code requires less material to be used in building because of this fact, Mackie declares.

The conference will hold its annual meeting in San Jose next week, when the code will be presented for adoption. Following its adoption, it will be presented to the various municipalities of the coast.

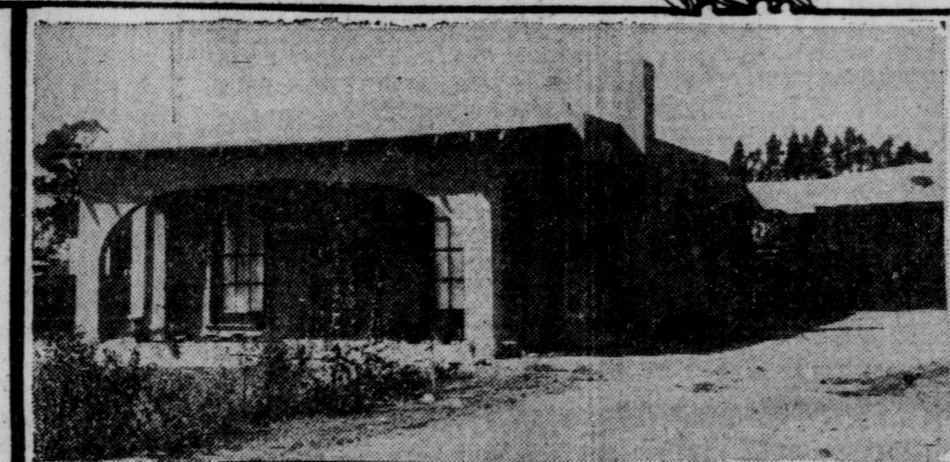

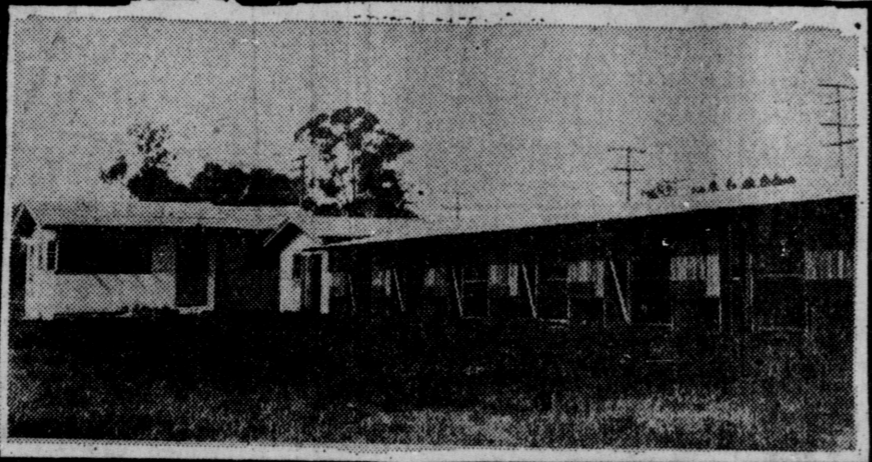

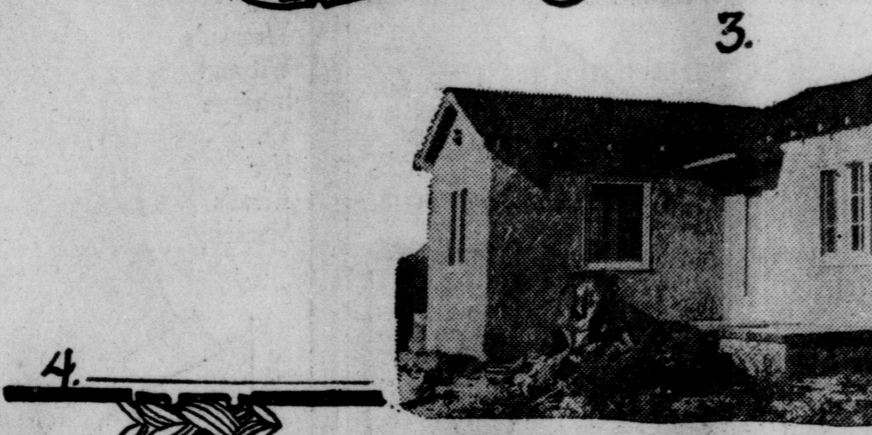

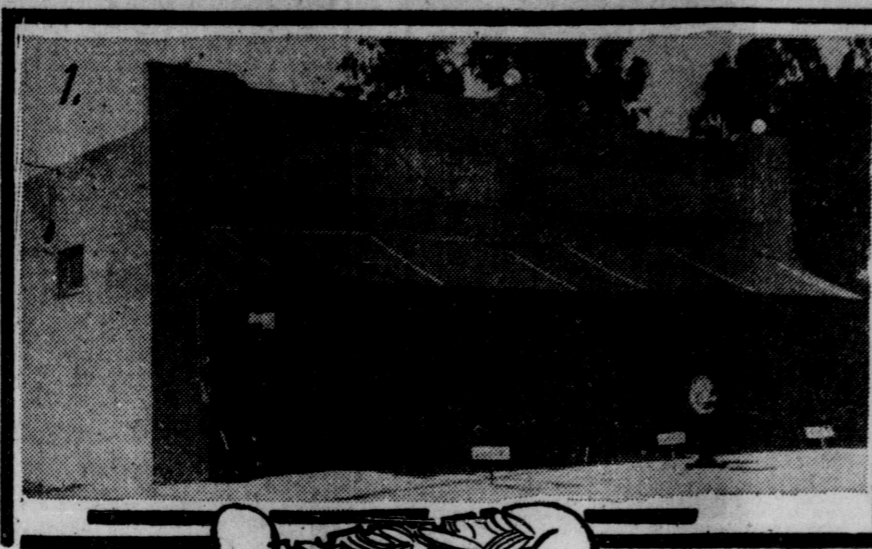

The conference's code and the one drafted by Mark C. Cohen, of San Francisco, at the suggestion of the Orange County Builders' exchange, have no connection. It is believed that both codes will be presented to the Santa Ana trustees at the same time, thus permitting the board to select the one considered the best.

Among the Orange county delegates to the San Jose convention will be W. S. Decker, local building inspector. Mr. Decker declared today that the present code here is obsolete, having been adopted nine years ago.

The local inspector points out that at the present time, the so-called California house, a cheap type of construction, is permitted in this city. The code drafted by the Pacific Coast Building Officials' conference prohibits this type.

"While the code carries with it some radical departures from present building regulations on the Pacific coast, it is a big step forward in the advancement of practical and workable building regulations," Mr. Mackie said. "The idea has been

Citizens Seek Fullerton Annexation In Order To Get School Facilities

PLAN CLUBHOUSE FOR COMMUNITY

Population Of Northern Orange County Town Is Declared On Increase

Since the first of May, the little community of Lansdowne, located three miles west of Fullerton, has experienced an unprecedented growth in home building. It was declared today by William Del Giorgio, secretary of the Community club. According to building figures, a sum of $78,442 has been expended for 30 homes.

The population of Lansdowne is about 500 and, if the present rate of growth continues, it will be around 1500 very soon.

How near Lansdowne came to being a city is not commonly known. At the time the Santa Fe railroad was surveying a proposed route through what is now Lansdowne, a heavy rain came and caused several washouts. As a consequence, the Santa Fe officials moved the line further west. Fullerton grew up at the junction because of the transportation facilities there.

The proposition for annexing to Fullerton will come up for a second time within the next month, it is expected by Del Giorgio. A committee from the Community club, composed of E. Frary and F. Guthrie has been circulating a petition to ask for annexation.

Last April, a vote on annexation was taken in Fullerton and failed of passing by the narrow margin of 23 votes.

When the question comes up again, the people of Lansdowne are confident that it will carry. Del Giorgio said. The reason that they are desirous of becoming a part of the city of Fullerton is in order to extend the Fullerton school district to include Lansdowne. Under present arrangements, the Fullerton school buses pass directly through the little community and they can not stop to take on the students.

While the annexation is pending, the community is progressing rapidly. Plans are being considered for building a community club house.

The site on which Lansdowne is located includes 80 acres. A tract north of the town may be prepared for a municipal golf links, according to reports. The suggestion has not been brought before the community club yet, Del Giorgio said.

Chicken raising and rabbit farming are the principal industries of the locality. The Golden West Fur Farms has erected a building on Magnolia avenue fitted out as a rabbitry. Hatcheries and rabbit hutches are being erected by many private individuals.

Lansdowne was selected as the name for the community in a contest.

The contraction of "land is down" won.

CITY PLANNER TO GIVE TALK FRIDAY

Dr. Carol Aronovici, employed recently as city planner of Santa Ana, will give a talk and exhibit maps of this city at the luncheon of the local realty board Friday noon at Ketter's cafe, it was announced today by Jack Wallace, president of the realtors' organization.

Because of the interest in the proposed city plan for Santa Ana, a large attendance of realtors and others interested is expected. The meeting is open to anyone interested in the subject, Wallace says.

Dr. Aronovici's subject will be "The Santa Ana Plan."

Mrs. Roger Winans has just returned from the mountains of Peru, South America. Hear her tell about the people and her wonderful experiences while there, tonight at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Fifth and Parton streets.

NEW SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO TRACT PLACED ON MARKET

Mission Hill, the new subdivision will be sold out in a short time, according to A. H. Reid, owner and subdivider. Mr. Reid has appointed Fuller and Fowler, of 122 West Third street, as his Santa Ana agents.

"For many years, there has been an insistent demand for homes in San Juan Capistrano," Mr. Reid said today. "I am firmly convinced that Mission Hill, which I have just put on the market, will develop into one of the show places of San Juan Capistrano second only to the historic old mission itself. The property I am subdividing is most advantageously located, commanding a view of the distant Pacific, convenient to all schools, churches and but three blocks from the busiest corner in the town."

"Why, just this morning I talked to a local man who told me that he had been waiting for 20 years to be able to buy a lot. It goes without saying that he was one of the very first men to buy. This small subdivision I have is, I believe, but the entering wedge to great development and a greater San Juan Capistrano. I know of about a dozen houses which will be started at Mission Hill, teams and men are now busily engaged in the grading of streets, water mains and electricity will be installed as rapidly as possible and all work will be rushed to completion, all of which means a new influx of people. Mechanics of all kinds will be needed. I can say without fear of contradiction that in many respects that the property I am placing on the market at San Juan Capistrano is the most remarkable that I have ever handled during my 25 years in the subdivision business, subdividing properties in Seattle, Los Angeles, Hawthorne and just recently completing a 400-acre subdivision in San Bernardino."

BUILDERS TOLD OF LOAN MEASURE

That the Orange County Builders' exchange in August placed 50 men at work was the feature report of the monthly meeting Tuesday night in the American Legion hall.

Elmer Schaniel, secretary-manager, also reported that a demand for steel workers has been received, with no steel workers available. He urged that all building mechanics list their names and addresses with him. Schaniel also reported that six firms had called upon the exchange office for recommendation as to material supply companies. These services are rendered free, stated Schaniel.

M. B. Wellington spoke briefly on the subject of the amendment to the veterans' farm and home purchase act to be voted on in November.

According to Wellington, Orange county will have approximately $2,000,000 available for use in assisting World war veterans, if the act is passed.

The bill provides for an appropriation of $20,000,000 for California as a whole. This would be in addition to the $10,000,000 fund now in use. Wellington stated that 2203 loans amounting to $9,379,000 had been made from the $10,000,000 fund.

James Livesey, candidate for county treasurer, outlined briefly of the work of the appraisal board of the local realty association. The meeting opened with a 6:30 o'clock dinner, prepared by the American Legion auxiliary.

W. A. Taylor Plans Bonnie Brae Home To Cost $10,000

An eight-room house to cost $10,000 will be erected at 2410 Bonnie Brae street by W. A. Taylor, of 710 South Ross street, who has awarded the contract to E. A. Noe.

A $5000 residence will be built at 2404 French street by Honer, Herzog and Farney. The home will be of stucco.

C. A. Fowler, of 920 South Ross street, has secured a permit for the construction of a residence and a garage at 920 North Olive street. The cost will amount to $4300.

Lon Rothenberger, of 1031 West Eighth street, plans a $3000 residence at 1033 West Eighth street. The owner will direct the work.

Alterations which will involve $3000 have been started at the Dr. Charles V. Doty residence at 410 West Walnut street. R. R. Lutes is the contractor.

AT THE THEATERS

YOST BROADWAY THEATER
Frank and Mae Stanley, appearing on the current vaudeville program at the Yost Broadway, bring the Golden West into the theater. The wide plains and cactus patches are made vivid by this unique team.

The performers stage a miniature rodeo. All the pastimes of the cowboy are demonstrated, rope-spinning, comedy chatter and whirlwind dancing.

Rhythms of danceland with Blanche and Elliott and their "Collegiate Steppers" offer a most original and varied dancing act. Blanche and Elliott present the most daring and difficult feats of the Adagio with a grace and ease that both amazes and pleases. Their extraordinary versatility, together with their delightful personality imparts the true flavor of the big musical shows.

The bevy of "Collegiate Steppers" are all recruits from the big musical comedy fields and in their varied numbers exhibit unusual talent and grace. Each girl represents a type of dance rhythm, and as the act progresses, each style of dance is beautifully and tastefully presented.

On the Yost Broadway screen will be shown "Diplomacy," a production featuring Blanche Sweet.

WEST COAST WALKER
The West Coast-Walker theater is featuring for the next three days Rin-Tin-Tin in his latest picture, "A Hero of the Big Snows."

Rin-Tin-Tin is a German shepherd dog, who was born in France in 1918 and named after one of the "lucky dolls" by the war. Adopted and trained by Lieut. Lee Duncan for several years he displayed uncannily human characteristics and an ability to perform breath-taking feats. This suggested the possibility of a screen career for Rinty to his owner, and success was instantaneous.

On the stage is a vaudeville bill composed of Fanchon and Marco "Specialties," and diversified Yod-Bits, featuring Way Watts and his band, the new band at the West Coast-Walker theater that has proved to be such a sensation. Included in the acts are: The Pedrini brothers, an ace of "Musical Moments," Reeves and Leu have a clever act of comedy dancing, and Bob Emerson is a magician with more "hokus" than magic.

Taken from all angles, the show at the popular playhouse is one of the best to be seen by Santa Ana audiences for some time.

YOST THEATER

The muffled rhythm of hundreds of moccasins feet in the wedding dance of savages—a terrified captive white girl—an Indian brave waiting to make her his squaw! Suddenly the tom-toms stop their weird beating! Shrieks rent the night air—shadows danced eerily in the glow of the campfires—before the thundering, killing hoofs of a Devil Horse the dancers fled in a terror that can only be known to the superstitious.

Through their midst came the great black stallion—the wild creature who made war on the Indians—trampling them to death beneath his great hoofs. And on the back of this horse that no human being had ever touched and lived to tell the tale, rode a man! What magic was this?

This is one of the thrilling and spectacular scenes promised in "The Devil Horse," the picture showing at the Yost theater and starring Rex, the only screen actor of his kind in the world.

Movie Chatterbox

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 16.—"Don Juan" opens at Sid Grauman's Egyptian theater. Crowds, crowds everywhere . . . thousands of eyes roving restlessly in search of some celebrity . . . and being well-rewarded by these earthly cinema stars flocking in for the show . . . Harry and Jack Warner accompanied by their wives are driven up in their limousine . . . Louise Fazenda with a beautiful lavender shawl . . . 'tis a big night for the ladies . . . It is their opportunity to "show off" new gowns . . . while the poor men must wear the same old tuxedos . . . Bert Lytell and his wife, Claire Windsor . . . a news-reel man steadily grinding his camera as the film folk continue to arrive . . . Douglas Fairbanks Jr., wearing a stove pipe hat . . . that's one sure way of attracting attention here in our little cinema colony . . . wonder why movie folk crave admiration 24 hours a day . . . John Gilbert drawing many a sigh from the flappers . . . and followed closely by Percy Marshall . . . Dolores Costello looking almost indescribable in a magnificent ermine wrap . . . there's Sid Grauman himself . . . John Barrymore rushing in amid great applause just before the lights go out . . . and the picture itself . . . it's very entertaining . . . but I can't but help think how perfect Douglas Fairbanks would fit the role of Don Juan.

June Mathis and her Italian director husband, Balboni . . . who did ask my wife and self to join them in light refreshments at Paula's . . . and so home in our sputtering motor car.

Joe Reddy, one of Hollywood's most valuable press agents, called the obituary editor of a local paper to report the death of the mother of one of his movie-star clients.

"We've a column full now, can't you hold it over a day," asked the obituary editor.

"Hell, the body will rot," shouted Joe with disgust.

Anyone who knows Wallace Beery and Raymond Hutton will understand just how Eddie Sutherland feels toward them about now. Before going on, I might mention for the benefit of those unacquainted with the above named gentlemen that they are the worst kidders in the entire film colony. Eddie, who has been feeling kind of blue because his wife is in New York, sought consolation by naming an army transport in his picture "Louise." Since then he has not had a moment's peace when Beery or Hutton were around.

Sylvian Balboni, Italian director-husband of June Mathis, tells me that when he was just a poor cameraman and didn't know Miss Mathis, he used to go around at night and steal flowers out of her garden because he thought they were so pretty.

Speaking of Balboni reminds me —he has another distinction aside from that of being a motion picture director. He is a member of our noble fraternity, being a correspondent for several Italian papers.

John McCormick, general manager of the First National studios and incidentally the husband of Colleen Moore, managed to secure an appointment as a fire marshal so that he could have a siren on his car. The other day the restaurant at the studio burned almost to the ground and McCormick was nowhere to be found.

STYLE NOTE
Some of our celebrated actresses around heart-break village are advocating a one-color wardrobe for a season. For example, if blue is chosen, everything from hat to shoes should be in various shades of blue.

Walter Woods, well known film writer, advances a new idea for children's bed-time stories. "Why not tell them picture scenarios ideas instead of fairy stories?" he asks. It might be a good idea at that and most of them are simple enough for children to understand—and many as impossible as the fairy stories.

A new member has been added to the cast of Hal Roach's "Our Gang" comedies. She is Vermicelli, sister of Mary Kornman, the gang's pretty little girl. She is called "Vermi" for short.

Charged with failure to keep the provisions of city ordinance No. 776, which states that merchants must have their electric signs burning between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p. m. at this time of the year, L. Lagrande, manager of the Safeway store, 415 West Fourth street, was fined $25 in city police court yesterday afternoon.

Lagrande was arrested by Motor Officer B. A. Hershey. The ordinance provides that electric signs must be burning between 7 and 9 p. m. every night from October 1 to April 1 and from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. from April 1 to October 1. The arrest of Lagrande was the first for violation of this ordinance in several months.

EXECUTIVES OF EXCHANGE ON EASTERN TRIP

The California Fruit Growers' exchange announces that General Manager Dezell, Orange Sales Manager King and Advertising Manager Gessinger have started on their annual eastern trip.

Each year executives from the Los Angeles office of the exchange hold conferences in the division headquarters cities with the eastern sales and advertising representatives. Division headquarters cities are San Francisco, Minneapolis, Chicago, Boston and Fort Worth. Some time also is spent in New York and Washington.

At these conferences the business of the year just closing is thoroughly gone over and plans laid for the coming season. Every district sales manager attends, thus affording the California executives an opportunity to establish a direct yearly contact with the men in the markets who are selling 75 per cent of California's citrus crop.

Short Crop in Florida
Conflicting estimates, ranging from 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 boxes of oranges and grapefruit, have been coming from Florida for the last several months.

The confusing element was the fact that most sections threw an exceptionally heavy bloom last spring but much of it did not stick. In fact, some of the trees that bloomed the heaviest are now showing just a normal crop of fruit.

The most conservative and most dependable estimates indicate a total crop of about 16,000,000 boxes. This is divided on the basis of 10,000,000 oranges and tangerines and 6,000,000 grapefruit.

While short in volume, the quality is claimed to be exceptionally good. Parson Brown oranges and early grapefruit already are starting to move in small quantities, but will not be going forward in any volume until after the middle of October. Maturity regulations, which were so strictly enforced by the state last year, still are in effect and will be closely adhered to by all shippers, it is understood.

Volume Records Broken
California, as a whole, is just completing a year of record citrus shipments. Shipment of oranges and lemons, combined, is larger than ever has gone forward in any previous season.

Indications are that the last of October, the fiscal end of California's citrus year, the California Fruit Growers' exchange will have sent forward over 52,000 cars of oranges and lemons. Based on the exchange percentage, this will give a total for the state of approximately 70,000 cars of citrus.

It is interesting to note that the big increase in this year's tonnage is entirely in lemons and valencia. Navel, in fact, fell somewhat below the high mark of the 1923-1924 season.

Due to the large production not only of citrus fruits, but of all varieties of competing fruits, the market has been extremely sensitive all season and it is felt that serious price declines would have ensued had there not been a responsive consumer demand due to the fine quality of this season's crop and to the new and extended uses developed by exchange advertising.

It is claimed that by far the larger portion of the valencia crop is disposed of for juice purposes in the home and at fountains. Thirty-two thousand juice extractors dispose of over 4000 cars of citrus fruits annually in drug stores and at juice stands.

Beauty and health uses of lemons, promoted on a year 'round basis, are taking more and more lemons, each year, in what were formerly considered "off seasons."

Continuance In Speed Case Is Asked by Girl

Miss Ruth Kelley, pretty Hollywood girl, arrested several weeks ago by B. A. Hershey, city motorcycle officer, charged with speeding 40 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone on East First street, has asked that her case be continued in police court. Illness was the reason given by the defendant.

Miss Kelley is free on $25 bail. Judge J. F. Talbott yesterday granted a continuance until September 22, at 10 a. m., when Miss Kelley will receive a jury trial, it was said.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS ADDRESS ON CITIZENSHIP

The Rev. Benjamin Sherwood Haywood, pastor of the White Temple M. E. church, Anaheim, and a nationally known church and social welfare worker, was applauded with great enthusiasm yesterday afternoon, when, speaking before the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, at St. Ann's inn, he asserted that the preservation of the U. S. Constitution and American institutions depended in a greater degree on character building and proper understanding of civic and social responsibilities than on education.

President W. Verne Whitson presided over the meeting, with Sam Jernigan in charge of the program. The speaker of the day was introduced by the program chairman, whose remarks were supplemented by Otis H. Barr, personal friend of Dr. Haywood.

In placing character building and a proper understanding of social responsibility above education, the speaker took pains to point out that he did not desire to reflect upon the value of education. On the contrary, he declared, education is vitally worth while. No untrained life can hope for success in the strenuous competition of this day.

Stressing the need for Americanization work and the elimination of alien influences, he said that out of the 15,000,000 foreign-born in this country, not less than 5,000,000 can neither read nor write the English language, and 2,000,000 can neither read nor write any language.

"But education alone is not enough to solve the problems facing the country today," he averred, calling to mind a visit made to the Sing Sing prison several years ago, at which time he found a large number of highly educated men among the inmates.

Speaking further, Dr. Haywood emphasized the value of righteous patriotism, a patriotism which is expressed in love of country and right living—a patriotism that is not provincial. A patriotism, unfettered by bigotry, that is broad in its application of service. A patriotism that throbs the world with the message of brotherhood.

Dr. Haywood quoted from a recent speech made by Chief Justice Taft, referring to present-day conditions in the United States, as follows:

"In many parts of our country the nation seems to have lost something of the fine flavor of its early rap-

tures. "In some way we must win back that early enthusiasm. We need to stress at this hour the patriotic passion that actuated our forebears in the foundation-laying and constructive building of our nation."

"We must revive something of that passionate appeal which prompted our forefathers to give themselves without stint and with infinite yearnings to the purpose for which this nation was founded and to preserve it with that purpose undimmed for America's yet unborn children."

Calling attention to some of the dangers which are facing the country today, Dr. Haywood said that in recent years there has crept into our national life a counter element antagonistic to the altruistic spirit characteristic of American institutions.

"It is an element both foreign and domestic—a complex mass of humanity corrupted by vice and crazed by ill-gotten wealth to even boldly defy both the law of country and of God."

Voicing his approval of measures that would lead to permanent peace and the promotion of international good will, he spoke at the same time against any entanglements which deprive the American government of its sovereign powers. "We must not have an emasculated government. Peace conferences, nor even world courts alone can meet the situation. It must be a moral sanction—a compelling power of conscience," he remarked.

"There must be created in the hearts of the people inflexible antagonisms to every war except by a nation that has been actually attacked by armed forces," he observed.

In the course of his address, he took a fling at the forces of radicalism, which are carrying on their subtle propaganda. Citing the case of Russia, he said:

"You cannot change the soul of a nation by changing its government. There is none, nor will there ever be any regeneration in Russia simply by changing from monarchy into a Soviet government."

Speaking from his own personal observations, the churchman ventured the statement that Russia, under Soviet domination, has sunk to such a low level of degeneration that the recognition of its government by this country is entirely out of question.

"The call of this intense hour is for a righteous patriotism—that alone will put real heroic patriotism into a living life. It must be a patriotism without hatred or bitterness, a patriotism of righteous defense against wrong and treason. "There is no room in America nor on this continent for anarchy. America's constitution must be upheld. Every amendment of that constitution has a call for protection and defense. I believe in sufficient defense to carry Uncle Sam's royal decree of protection, the Stars and Stripes to remain supreme," he concluded.

STATE'S GRAPE CROP TO EXCEED 2 MILLION TONS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 16.—Although a decrease of 3 percent in California's 1926 grape crop over the forecast of a month ago is estimated, the total production will exceed two million tons, according to a report compiled by the California Co-operative Crop Reporting service.

In 1925, the total production amounted to 1,995,000 tons, while this year, if the present condition is maintained until completion of harvest, the yield will be 2,167,000 tons, it was estimated.

Due to insufficient moisture in certain localities, warm weather and early maturity, some varieties of grapes have "raised" to some extent on the vines, it was stated. This is true especially of muscats and zinfandels and to a lesser degree of malagas. The zinfandel crop for the state as a whole is not as large as last year, but the Alicante crop is larger.

All advices indicate an important decrease this year in the tonnage of raisin grapes that will be marketed fresh, as compared with 1925.

Outlook for the California cotton crop indicates a total production of 122,000 bales from 167,000 acres, should favorable conditions maintain during the remainder of the season.

Last year, 122,328 bales were harvested from 172,000 acres. During August, some injury resulted from head shed. Condition of California on September 1 was estimated to be 92 per cent of normal, compared with 94 on August 15 and 98 on August 1. For the entire United States, the condition on September 1 was 59.6 per cent of normal.

In a mammoth plant near New Orleans, gigantic machines are producing boards of Celotex that are shipped to all parts of the world. A single day's output of the Celotex plant equals the amount of lumber that could be cut from a seventy-five acre tract of pine timber.

Amazing Lumber that isn't cut from trees!

Celotex stops heat and cold many times as effectively as wood lumber... is stronger in walls... yet costs no more to use. Year after year, it will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel money.

FIVE years ago, a way was found to make lumber that possesses structural advantages plus insulating properties that wood alone can never offer.

It was a complete new building material: a heat-stopping lumber that banished cold draughty rooms and wasted fuel in winter... hot, stuffy rooms in summer.

How Celotex is used in both old and new houses

AS SHEATHING
Celotex supplies the insulation needed back of brick, wood or stucco exteriors.

UNDER PLASTER
On inside walls and ceilings, plaster is applied directly to the surface of Celotex.

IN THE ROOF
Celotex applied over or under roof rafters gives protection where it is most needed.

This amazing lumber is Celotex. It is not cut from trees, but manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. It is enduring... scientifically sterilized and waterproofed. Celotex is stronger in walls than wood lumber and many times better as insulation. Wind and moisture can not penetrate it. It quiets noise.

ACTUALLY saves money. Unlike ordinary insulation, Celotex is not an extra item in building. Wherever used, it replaces other materials, adding insulation at little or no extra cost.

With the walls and ceilings or roof of your house covered with Celotex a smaller, less expensive heating plant and smaller radiators will keep you comfortable. And year after year, Celotex will save from 25% to 35% of your fuel bill!

NEW COMFORT for old houses.
In houses already built, a big measure of this comfort and economy is being secured by lining attics and basements with Celotex.

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

RICH MAN WILL NOT BE FORCED TO SERVE TIME

Convicted in a Los Angeles superior court of conspiracy to violate the tariff act in smuggling a launch load of whiskey from the Mexican border to Long Beach, Alexander B. Stewart, millionaire, president of the Curtis Packing company, Long Beach, will not serve the four months' jail sentence given him, and which he was to have served in the Santa Ana jail.

Stewart appealed the case soon after his conviction and the higher court has reversed the decision of the lower court, it was said.

Stewart was convicted with Jack Miller, Oscar Lund, Frank Kubota, Larry Talbot, and several others, in connection with the alleged landing of several cases of booze at Stewart's place, in Long Beach.

Miller has not served his sentence, but is free until October 18, in order to arrange his business affairs. He is out on an appeal bond at the present time.

On October 18, he is to go to jail to serve two years. Kubota is in Leavenworth prison, and Lund already has served nine months in jail in Los Angeles.

Another indictment hangs over Stewart, according to word received here. The federal prosecutor has not determined whether it will be prosecuted, however, it was said.

WOMAN SEEKING MISSING BROTHER

Has anyone seen or heard of Oliver J. Malone?

His sister, Mrs. John J. Fleck, 140 Tenth street, Pacific Grove, Calif., is searching for him.

A letter, written by Mrs. Fleck to Coroner Charles D. Brown, received today, gave the information that Malone had not been seen by his sister for the last five years and that she had heard he had been killed in Orange county recently.

No person by the name of Malone has been killed here recently, Coroner Brown stated, and so informed the sister by letter yesterday.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the missing man is asked to write to the sister.

VAN NUYS—The harvesting of the baby lima bean crop in the San Fernando valley sections is well under way. Despite the fact that the crop was planted to less acreage than last year, the production will be greater and the quality much better. John H. Walters, manager and secretary of the Van Nuys and Owensmouth Bean Growers' association, states that the total acreage is about 14,000 and the yield would be approximately 225,000 100-lb. sacks. Some growers report an average of from 20 to 25 sacks per acre. These figures assume bumper proportions in view of the fact that 15 to 18 sacks per acre is regarded a very good crop.

BRAWLEY—Paving work on the new Brawley to Westmorland highway is under way with more than 50 men working on the job. F. C. Taylor, contractor in charge of construction, said that as soon as all necessary equipment is on hand the work will be speeded up to completion within the allotted 200 days. The contract calls for $93,000 if crushed rock is used and $96,000 if decomposed granite is used. Notice of the exact material required is expected from the state within a few days.

SAN DIEGO—San Diego population increased at the rate of 1756 monthly for seven months of this year in the territory served by the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company, according to figures issued by the company yesterday on business expansion. The gain is registered in 3075 electric and 2141 gas users. Each new electric customer is estimated as representing a family of four, which is the basis for the population increase estimated from this source. On January 1, 1925, the company was serving 99,829 gas and electric customers. Today this total has increased to 101,839. The 100,000 mark was passed during the month of June.

PASADENA—The first trail in the new fire-prevention program of the Angeles National forest, which calls for the expenditure of $55,000, will be started at the end of this week, according to Supervisor George H. Cecil of the Angeles National forest. Half of the $55,000 comes from the Angeles forest's share of the $100,000 granted by congress last spring to national forests in Southern California, and an equal amount is being advanced by Los Angeles county, Supervisor Cecil said.

SAN DIEGO—The average daily consumption of water in San Diego during August was 19,598,555 gallons, according to a report filed with the council by City Manager Rhodes. The loss in supply for the month, including consumption and evaporation, was $44,000,000 gallons. The impounding system now contains 25,414,315,000 gallons, just 2,414,315,000 less than a year ago. The loss would have been much greater, but for the impounding following the freak storm in April of this year.

PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY PARADE ARE ANNOUNCED BY JOE PLANK, COMMITTEE HEAD

The seventh annual Orange County Armistice day parade, to be held in Santa Ana this year, is to be divided into five divisions, patriotic, fraternal, educational, civic and industrial, and the entire parade will carry the title, "Pageant of Progress," according to Joe Plank, chairman of the parade department of the general celebration committee. Jules Markel is chairman of the general committee.

The parade will form on the side streets leading to Broadway, near the intersection of Washington avenue. The line of march will be as follows:

South on Broadway, past the reviewing stand at St. Ann's inn, to Sixth street; west on Sixth street to Ross street; south on Ross street to Fourth street; east on Fourth street to French street; south on French street to First street; west on First street to Ross street, disband.

The marching units will turn north on Broadway, mass color and pass the reviewing stand as a body, disbanding at Eighth and Broadway.

Decorate Line of March
F. L. Grouard, chairman of the decoration committee, has made arrangements for the decoration of the line of march with flags and bunting. A representative of every department of the American military forces in the World war will be included in the guard of honor, to be stationed at the reviewing stand.

After the parade the outstanding floats will be parked on the vacant lot just opposite the American Legion home, Third and Birch streets, in order to allow the public a closer inspection than afforded while the floats are in motion in the parade. There is expected to be much rivalry for the sweepstakes cup, won last year by the Orange county 40 and 8 organization.

Judge E. J. Marks, of the Orange county superior court, has been selected by Joe Plank to be grand marshal of the day. He will have as aides a representative from the Grand Army of the Republic, the United Spanish-American war veterans and a World war veteran, member of the American Legion. Appointment of the aides will be made within a few days.

Special Marching Unit
Every uniform worn by the American army since the Declaration of Independence will be represented in a special marching unit, to be organized under the direction of the Santa Ana American Legion post.

Organizations entering floats will be privileged to select any episode in the history of the nation or any mechanical invention of major importance, Plank said. He urged representatives of all clubs or associations intending to enter floats to get in touch with Elmer Schanuel, secretary of the general committee, at the Orange County Builders' exchange office, Third and Broadway, Santa Ana.

The fame of the Orange county annual Armistice day celebration has spread to all parts of the United States and the parade this year is expected to eclipse all previous efforts. Last year a number of eastern newspapers, in their rotogravure sections, printed pictures of the feature floats in the Anaheim parade.

Scripps Concern Buys Utah Paper

PROVO, Utah, Sept. 16.—W. H. Hornbrook, owner and publisher of the Evening Herald, daily Provo newspaper, and the Springfield, Utah, Herald, a weekly publication, has announced sale of both newspapers to the James Scripps newspaper interests, which have formed the Herald corporation to assume management of the publications.

Officers of the Herald corporation announced that no changes will be made in policies or management, except that N. Gunnar Rasmussen, Provo, will become editor of the Provo Herald, to succeed Hornbrook.

The Herald was organized as a daily newspaper four years ago by E. C. Rodgers, of San Luis Obispo, Calif., who sold to Hornbrook in 1924.

Much Cash Spent To Protect Trees

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 16.—Marked increase in the amount spent annually by California counties for forest and fire protection is seen in figures made public by State Controller Ray L. Riley.

The state's 58 counties last year spent for forest and fire protection an aggregate of $682,095, the report shows. This is more than three times as much as in 1924, when the total was only $220,515, and more than 18 times as much as in 1916, when the total was $37,664.

Most of the increase since 1916 is due to skyrocketing expenditures in Los Angeles county, where the 1916 figure was $15,227, the 1924 total $92,225 and for last year $561,174.

WAR ON SQUIRRELS
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 16.—Twelve million ground squirrels were killed last year in California by federal, state and county officials and individuals, according to estimates by the U. S. biological survey. This extermination work was conducted at a cost of $371,400.

TOASTMASTERS OF Y. M. C. A. TO RESUME WORK

Announcements for the first meeting of the Toastmasters' club for this season have been sent out from the Y. M. C. A. office.

Wednesday night, September 22, has been selected as the opening date for this popular club and the call has been sent to all former members to assemble for dinner on that evening at the Y. M. C. A.

Arthur Collins was president of the senior club and W. K. Hillyard headed the junior division last season. They will join in plans and programs for the new year's work.

For next Wednesday's program, every member is scheduled to have two minutes for a speech on his vacation. In addition, there will be an address by Clark Chamberlain, president of the Anaheim Toastmasters' club, who will discuss plans and possibilities for the further development of the club's work.

According to Collins, president of the senior Toastmasters' club last year, it is the plan to promote a strong program during the coming season for the men who previously have been members of the club, while a new division will be started about the first of October to accommodate the large number of beginners who wish to get into the work.

In order to provide ample opportunity for all members to get practice, Collins stated that it is the policy to restrict the membership of any division to 25 or 30 men. For this reason, it is expected that at least one, and perhaps two new divisions will have to be organized this fall to provide for all the men who wish to take advantage of the work done by the club.

Last spring, a class in commercial law was started by the members of the Toastmasters' club. This class, having suspended work for the summer, is to start its operations again at once. The work deals with practical problems of business law as needed by business men in their daily work. A modern textbook is used. This class is open to all men who are interested, whether members of the club or not.

POE'S STORIES: Hop-Frog

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

In a shrill voice, heard through the din, Hop-Frog cried: "Leave them to me! I can tell you they are!" He clambered down the chain with his torch. Through-out the room sounded again that harsh grating sound that had followed the king's dashing of the wine in Trippetta's face. "This is my last jest," he screamed.

The dwarf touched his blazing torch to the flax with which the king and his ministers were coated.

"They are the king and his seven privy councilors," he screamed, "a king who does not scruple to strike a defenseless girl!"

The flax and the tar, highly combustible, raged fiercely. Hop-Frog climbed swiftly above them and in a short time the work of vengeance was complete. Hurling his torch at the blackened mass, the dwarf clambered through the skylight. Here Trippetta waited. Neither was seen again.

SELF-PUNISHMENT

There is no law which says you shall be kind,
'Tis not a legal crime to keep your own.
Man has the right to all things to be blind
Except what serve and profit him alone.

To worship money is no state offense,
One may or may not choose to be polite.
Be coarse, be scornful; in the legal sense
You have not stepped beyond your civic right.

Not very fine the line which statutes draw.
We all are free our lives to shape and plan;
The courtesies are not required by law.
One is not forced to be a gentleman.

But he who lives for self and petty gain,
Whose bargains stamp him merciless and cold,
Outside the walls of prison may remain
To find his spirit shackled, trebly-fold.

IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—There are as many "hang-outs" in Manhattan as there are people to "hangout." Which means thousands.

The hours of "hanging out" vary with the groups, as does the neighborhood. Sometimes it is a cafe, sometimes a book shop, sometimes a park corner, and sometimes a crowded thoroughfare.

Some of them have constituted, and still do, many of New York's most colorful and romantic gathering places; others have been, and still are, drab, tawdry, sordidly placidly conservative, or dynamically radical.

None was more favored than Joel's before he gave up the ghost. Here gathered the writing army of the metropolis and the gay and witty Broadway folk; writers and wits and Bohemians. They furnish but a laughter-filled foreground.

The background seethed with unwritten melodrama. Here came the fearless adventurers and plotters of South American revolutions; debonaire soldiers of fortune; weavers of European intrigue; spies and romantic dare-devils. They would hatch their plots and their adventures over their wine. When prohibition spelled the end, Joel hung up a sign announcing that it hadn't been a particularly profitable enterprise, but he had learned much.

On East Tenth street is a little cafe, the "hang-out" of poets and artists "in revolt" against the old conventions.

In Macdougall Street is another little cafe where one may find the young radical writers and editors. The trail-blazers of the old "Masses," many of them now calmed by time and changing tides, have followed Floyd Dell and the young firebrands of yesterday into the quiet peacefulness of Hudson river cottages.

The book stores of Eighth Street lure groups of "bookish" folk; literary followers of all levels. The Rand school is a "hang-out" for those who would talk the newer philosophies, economic or abstract.

For years one could find a certain theatrical group at Dinty Moore's corn-beet and cabbage emporium in the mid-forties, off Broadway. But the visit must be made in the early morning when theaters are closed.

Radio fans gather in the marts near Cortland street; musicians of note gather back of Carnegie Hall; jazz players and band musicians jlog the sidewalk at 44th Street and Broadway; ham and egg fighters have a doorway two blocks down; vaudeville and tent show folk congregate around the offices of Billboard and Variety.

Street fakers have a club-room. Actors go to the Lambs Club, the Green Room or the Players. Press agents hang out at the "Cheese Club." Coffee houses draw the talkers and dream spinners of the foreign quarters.

There's a corner for soap boxers; a room where struggling young musicians go; an old man's corner in a park; a garage where organ grinders gather; a book shop run by a cowboy where ex-westerners flck—everything and everybody; all tastes and kinds.

Manhattan is the most "grouchy" city in the world.

by EDNA KENT FORBES

Do you stand correctly? It's most important, not only to your health, but to your looks, that you know how. And it's all important if you cannot get much exercise.

If you have any doubts as to how you are standing, try the old grandmother's test of standing flat against a wall. Heels, calves of the legs, back, shoulders and back of the head should touch the wall. Your shoulders should be as flat against it as possible. That gives you the correct position. Try it against a door, then push the door away, and watch yourself carefully as you relax. You can learn a lot about the faults of your ordinary position that way.

You must have your back flat, your chest up, your head up. You can always take the correct position for standing by simply raising your chest, or by pulling in the abdomen, which automatically pushes up the chest. You cannot be too round shouldered that way. The worst fault you can have is a protruding abdomen, for it means the back sags in and the shoulders out, the chest is sunk, and you can't really breathe a whole decent breath of air. You'll also look badly.

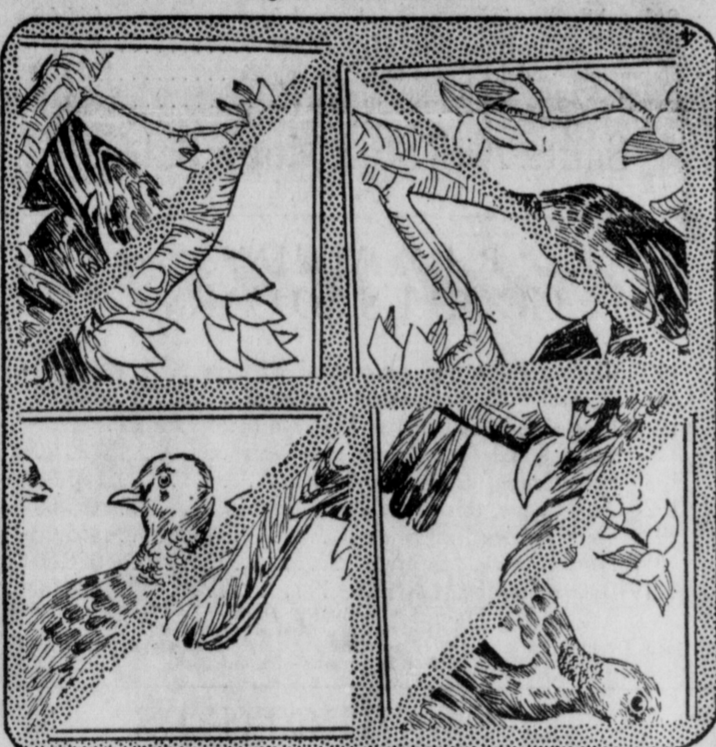

Whether you are a man or a woman, your figure will be awkward. If your health is bad or your back weak, you'll slump when you stand and when you sit. Exercise is one of the best ways of overcoming this, and one of the best exercises is deep breathing, raising the arms from the sides, so the hands touch the shoulders, elbows bent, fists clenched. This brings chest and shoulders and abdomen into proper position. Try this every morning and evening.

Nannie—I do not know why you failed when using the henna, but the way to give yourself a henna shampoo is as follows: Mix the contents of one of the small packages of Egyptian henna that comes for a shampoo, with enough lather to cover your entire head. Let this stay on your scalp for 20 minutes or even 30, depending upon the hair, as fine hair takes the color more quickly than coarse hair. Continue then as with any other shampooing method. In your case, it is well to have the lather as hot as you can stand it since your hair does not take up the color easily.

Queer Quirks of
- NATURE -

APPEARS EVERY SPRING

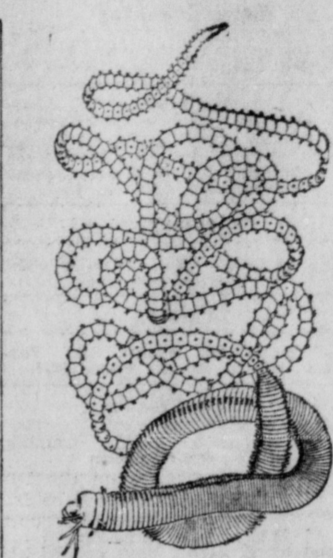

BY AUSTIN H. CLARK
Smithsonian Institute

Throughout the Pacific Islands the spring season is recognized as the time of the appearance of this creature, and wherever it occurs the season and even the months are named for it.

It would seem, therefore, to be a creature of importance. So it is: it is none other than the palolo. The palolo is a kind of sea-worm which when fully grown averages about 16 inches in length and is sharply divided into a thick forward part measuring about one-quarter of its length and a slender posterior part.

In the slender hinder part the eggs are formed, and on or near the day of the last quarter of the moon in October and November, which is springtime in the regions where it lives, it wriggles backward in its burrow in the coral rock or similar situation and breaks off the long hinder end, which rises to the surface and swims about, finally bursting and scattering the eggs.

These swarming worm-ends are considered a great delicacy by the natives and are gathered in great quantities. In Samoa and in Fiji this swarming is well known and has been carefully studied. The same or a similar worm occurs in the same way at other places, in the Gilbert and Banks Islands, in the New Hebrides, on the coast of New Ireland, and at Ambolia.

MENUS for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal, top milk, broiled bacon, scrambled eggs, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Macaroni loaf, celery and cheese sandwiches, grapes, white butter cake, milk, tea.

DINNER—Roast shoulder of lamb, buttered rice, baked carrots, combination vegetable salad, peach bavarian cream cake, bran rolls, milk, coffee.

White Butter Cake
One-half cup butter, 11-4 cups sugar, 21-4 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 3-4 cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-8 teaspoon salt, whites 4 eggs.

Cream butter and gradually add sugar. Cream mixture thoroughly and add vanilla. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and add alternately with milk to first mixture. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into batter. Turn into an oiled and floured loaf cake pan and bake fifty minutes in a moderate oven. If you bake by temperature, 350 to 475 degrees Fahrenheit should be maintained.

(Copyright 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

BREAKFAST—Chilled melon, wheat cereal cooked with dates, thin cream, crisp rye toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Minced lamb on toast, carrot salad, whole wheat bread, California grapes, milk, coffee.

DINNER—Cream of celery soup, pan broiled pork chops, baked sweet potatoes, stuffed tomato salad, apple meringue pudding, bran bread, milk, coffee.

Carrot Salad
One cup grated carrot, 1-2 lemon, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1-2 cup whipping cream, paprika, lettuce.

Grate rind from lemon and squeeze out juice. Whip cream until solid and fold in lemon juice, grated rind of lemon, grated carrot, salt and sugar. Drop from a spoon onto hearts of lettuce and sprinkle with paprika to serve.

This is an excellent salad for small children as it is, and if finely chopped nuts are added it will be found very satisfactory for older children and adults.

1000 EGGS
In EVERY HENIf You Keep Chickens
CUT THIS OUT

"The great trouble with the poultry business has always been that the laying life of a hen was too short," says Henry Trafford, International Poultry Breeder for eighteen years Editor of Poultry Success.

The average pullet lays 150 eggs. If kept the second year, she may lay 100 more. Then she goes to market. Yet, it has been scientifically established that every pullet is born or hatched with over one thousand minute egg germs in her system—and will lay them on a highly profitable basis over a period of four to six years' time if given proper care.

How to work to get 1000 eggs from every hen; how to get pullets laying early; how to make the old hens lay like pullets; how to keep up heavy egg production all through cold winter months when eggs are highest; triple egg production; make slacker hens hustle. These and many other money making poultry secrets are contained in Mr. Trafford's "1000 EGG HEN" system of poultry raising, one copy of which will be sent absolutely free to any reader of this paper who keeps six hens or more. Eggs should go to a dollar or more a dozen this winter. This means big profit to the poultry keeper who gets the eggs. Mr. Trafford tells how. If you keep chickens and want them to make money for you, cut out this ad and send it with your name and address to Henry Trafford, Suite 474, Herald Bldg., Birmingham, N. Y., and a free copy of "The 1000 EGG HEN" will be sent by return mail.—Adv.

Kitchens

The Way to Beautiful Homes

IT'S EASY to keep your kitchen spotlessly clean when walls, cabinets and woodwork are painted with SATIN EGG-SHELL FINISH. Stains, spots and discolorations from the steam of cooking can be quickly wiped away with a damp cloth.

Then, too, Satin Egg-Shell may be had in white and in a number of desirable shades which make possible many attractive color schemes for kitchen, breakfast nook, bath or nursery. And all colors are washable!

From the many B-H Paints and Varnishes, let us assist you in choosing the one best suited to your purpose. For exterior painting, we recommend B-H Pure Prepared Paint.

Vast Acreage In Northwest Woods Swept by Flames

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 16.—The past fire season saw 121,148 acres of national forest timber burned over in the Pacific Northwest, according to a survey of the Portland headquarters of the forest service. Three forests in northern Washington sustained the greatest loss. They are the Chelan, Colville and Mt. Baker. The heaviest loss in any one forest was suffered by the Mt. Baker, where flames swept over 40,000 acres. The Chelan came next with 27,000 acres. In the Colville, 25,000 acres were burned over. Lightning storms, occurring on three different days, were the greatest cause of damage in these forests. Many fires were started, several leaping out of control. Incendiary fire figures are higher in the current report than ever before, and virtually all were confined to southern Oregon. Fifty such fires were started in the Umpqua reserve alone. Only a few offenders were arrested. Absence of snow last winter and shortage of rainfall made the season one of the worst in history, according to forest officials.

Seattle Shows Heavy Increase In Grain Cargoes

SEATTLE, Sept. 16.—This city is definitely taking its place as the leading grain port on the United States Pacific coast, in the opinion of Colonel George B. Lampine, president of the Seattle port commission. From July 15 to September 3 of this year a total of 1,600,000 bushels of wheat were loaded aboard ships here, an amount exceeding the entire total of last year and virtually equalling any year in the history of the port. Adjustment of elevator charges is partly responsible for the increase, according to Lampine.

New Slicker Type Is Found In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—A new type of "city slicker" has been uncovered by municipal investigators here. He is the "ticket slicker," the youth who makes a business of standing in line at theaters and selling his place to the pleasure seeker who arrives late. The city council, after being told that boys earn as much as $20 a night in this manner, passed an ordinance forbidding the practice. Violators are to be punished by jail sentences.

Bridge Will Open On New Year's Day

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 16.—The projected San Diego-Coronado bridge, to cost $2,000,000 will be opened to traffic New Year's day, 1928, according to the group sponsoring its construction. The bridge will be 4500 feet long, 35 feet above the water and will have a lift span 250 feet above which can be raised 135 feet along the water.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

CAMPAIGN FOR SUNDAY FUNDS
BEGIN TUESDAY

ORANGE, Sept. 16.—Boy Scouts of Orange will be assisted in obtaining a fund of $1400 to carry on their work by two luncheon clubs and the Elks' lodge, according to plans laid today at a meeting of Lions, Elks and Rotarians.

Members of the organization are to meet for a brief meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock to choose names of prospective contributors, it is reported.

The campaign will open Tuesday morning, when those who gather in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday night take the field. By Thursday noon, when the Rotary club has its regular weekly meeting, it is expected that the campaign will have been concluded.

Four troops of local Scouts are looking to this campaign to create for them a fund by which their work may be carried on during the year, it is stated.

Clyde Payne, local attorney, and Stanley Mansur, prominent Elk, are the chairmen of committees to conduct the campaign.

Beach Dwellings
In Demand, Report

BALBOA, Sept. 16.—Reduced rates are in effect at Balboa and Newport Beach this week and will remain in effect until next summer. While the summer season is far from being actually closed, the opening of schools took many vacationists back to their homes and house owners have reduced the rents to what are known as winter rates.

According to local real estate dealers, who have charge of the renting of large numbers of houses, the week-end business at the beaches is still excellent and will continue to be good all winter.

People are coming to look upon Newport Beach and Balboa as year-around pleasure resorts, according to the real estate men. To substantiate this, the house renters report that more houses have been rented for the entire winter in the bay district than ever before.

Houses in the bay district are of a substantial type and many inland people prefer the mild nights of the coast towns during the winters, according to the real estate dealers.

Many wealthy Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena people have built fine summer homes at Balboa during the past year and now declare their intention of remaining at the beach the year around.

The children voted unanimously to give the play. Mrs. Joseph S. Thurston has been induced to direct the play and she has chosen "The Toy Shop" for presentation. The casting will begin this week and rehearsals will start soon after. Mrs. Thurston, who has had much experience in directing children's plays, was a teacher in the Laguna Beach school for several years and produced many delightful programs with the children as stars.

BOULDER DAM
FIELD TOLD IN KWANIS TALK

ANAHEIM, Sept. 16.—The coming short session of congress will determine whether California will progress or retrogress, according to Burdett Moody, secretary of the Boulder Dam association, who brought a strong plea for immediate action on the Boulder dam project before members of the Anaheim Kiwanis club at their regular meeting yesterday. William Stark was chairman of the day and introduced the speaker.

"It will require all the force and ingenuity we are able to amass to put over the Swing-Johnson bill at the short session," Mr. Moody declared. "Southern California must have water. Our cities are growing so fast that they are taking vast quantities of water needed for our farms."

If the Colorado river ever gets beyond control, as it did in 1905, the Imperial valley will be covered many feet deep with water and a tremendous property loss will result.

"It is costing Imperial valley farmers $2,500,000 a year to desilt the water being used in irrigation. This problem would be taken care of by Boulder dam."

HANSEN

HANSEN, Sept. 16.—The Ladies Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Alamitos Friends church held a reception at the church on Magnolia road Friday evening. A program was rendered, after which the women served ice cream and cake. A free will offering was given to help replenish the treasury of the society. More than $100 was secured. The church is educating and supporting a Guatemalan girl and is also paying its portion of the maintenance of several missionaries of the Whittier section of the denomination.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Peters drove to Santa Ana for evening dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burch had Mr. and Mrs. Jack Quinn, of Huntington Beach, as dinner guests on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schrock, of Los Angeles, visited Mr. and Mrs. E. Lukins on Sunday. They were friends in Butte, Mont.

Norman Poutz, who is radio operator on the U. S. California, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Poutz, over Sunday.

Dr. Chandler and his nephew, J. R. Nelson, of Baldwin Park, are home from quite an extensive eastern trip. After visiting in Washington, New York, Philadelphia, and other eastern cities of note, they went by water to Boston, where they spent some time visiting places of interest. From Boston they motored into Vermont. Upon their return, they stopped off at Niagara Falls for a week.

Word received from Mrs. Dochy and daughters, Mary and Martha

HUNTINGTON BEACH OIL
FIELD CONTINUES TO LEAD
STATE IN NEW PROJECTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 16.—The western section of this city, which was opened recently for oil drilling, continues to be the favorite location for new wells, according to a report from the oil department of the state mining bureau. Nine wells were started in the new section last week out of a total of 26 new wells in the state.

The Midway field was second with four new oil rigs, and Richfield, another Orange county field, was tied with Rosencrans and Torrance for third place, with two new rigs.

RAIL ENGINEER TO GIVE MESA SPEECH

COSTA MESA, Sept. 16.—The first community meeting of the Friday afternoon club will be held at the clubhouse Friday at 7:30 p. m. All are welcome and an evening of pleasure and instruction is planned.

Frank G. Olmsted, chairman of the Joint Technical society, Los Angeles, will be the speaker of the evening. His topic will be "Mexico." Mrs. Olmsted was construction engineer during the building of the railroad between Santa Ana and Newport Beach. He was connected with the project until the road was built as far as the present town of Costa Mesa, then called away and Colonel Finley, of Santa Ana, finished the job.

Among the musical numbers will be a vocal solo by Mrs. B. Ellis and piano numbers by Mrs. R. I. Steadman.

Maternity Home
In New Location

ORANGE, Sept. 16.—Mrs. I. E. Litten, proprietor of the Litten Maternity home, 1055 West Fourth street, Santa Ana, has taken a five-year lease on the L. O. Vaughn home on North Main street and West Orange road. She will move her establishment from the Santa Ana location to the newly acquired property at once, it is understood.

URGES REPAIRS TO HARBOR ENTRANCE

BALBOA, Sept. 16.—That approximately 75 boats, ranging in size from small sail boats to yachts 125 and 150 feet in length, will come into Orange county harbor to make their permanent berth, if the entrance to the bay is fixed, is the declaration of E. C. Finkbine, of Los Angeles, who anchored his 125-foot yacht, "Valron," in the bay for the winter, recently.

The bay is an ideal location for yachts and pleasure boats and many rich boat owners who now anchor their boats in San Pedro would welcome the chance to come into Newport bay if the entrance was repaired, Finkbine declared.

Retires After
25 Years In
Fullerton P. O.

FULLERTON, Sept. 16.—S. D. McKelvey yesterday retired from his position as assistant postmaster, after being employed in the local post office for nearly 25 years.

C. C. Clark, who has been employed at the Fullerton post office for the past 15 years, takes the place made vacant by Mr. McKelvey's retirement.

427 ENROLLED IN
COSTA MESA SCHOOL

COSTA MESA, Sept. 16.—School opened Monday with an enrollment of 417. Tuesday 10 new pupils entered. Last year, there were 371 on the first day.

This week, double sessions are being held on account of crowded conditions. It is expected that the four new class rooms will be completed by next week.

Miss Violet Felkner comes from Oklahoma. She has had five years of departmental experience. Miss Felkner will teach reading and literature, as well as have charge of the boys' glee work. Miss Pauline B. Paul is from South Carolina, with seven years of experience, specializing in arithmetic. Mrs. Marjorie Dudley, recently of Long Beach, had her teaching experience in Michigan and Ohio. Besides teaching spelling and writing, she will have charge of the girls' glee work. Miss Florence Cairns, supervisor of music, is well known throughout Orange county, having had charge of music in many schools of the county. Mrs. George Sherry is well known to many Costa Mesans, having lived here the past few years. Mrs. Sherry substituted during the latter part of the school term. Mrs. Sherry has had three years of experience, teaching in El Centro.

Hospital Nurses
Yacht Club Guests

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 16.—Approximately 110 nurses of the California Lutheran hospital in Los Angeles were guests at the Newport Harbor Yacht club yesterday. The nurses were the guests of the physicians of the hospital and came to Newport Beach in charge of Dr. Albert Solland, former commodore of the yacht club.

Two special Pacific Electric cars brought the party to the beach and following a luncheon prepared by the yacht club chef, the nurses enjoyed boat rides about the bay and on the ocean. Swimming parties also were much in vogue.

Another party is to be held at the club in the near future, when approximately 100 other nurses will enjoy a similar outing as guests of the doctors.

Benefit Show of
W. R. C. Nets $75

ORANGE, Sept. 16.—Reports filed with Mrs. Gladys MacDonald, president of the Woman's Relief corps, indicate that the benefit performances given at a local theater netted the corps better than $75. The money will be sent to the veterans' hospital at San Fernando.

Other assistance to be given the hospital by the local corps includes curtains and curtain rods. Work on the curtains will be done at an all-day meeting on October 6. Work will start at 10 o'clock and continue until 4 o'clock with a pot-luck dinner at noon. A vote of thanks was received from the Red Cross chapter in San Fernando for the work which the local corps has done in the past for the hospital.

Yesterday's meeting consisted of the initiation of Amy Bates and the appointment of investigating committees for two applicants. Fruit was sent to three members of the G. A. R. who are ill at their homes.

Announcement was made that the county federation meeting will be held September 28 in Whittier. All who attend this session are asked to take a bar of soap and a spool of thread for the benefit of a girl's home to be established in Los Angeles.

Officers of the local corps are scheduled to convene September 23 at the home of Mrs. Geraldine Hodson, 625 West Maple street. Mrs. Florence Ober will assist as hostess.

Counterfeiting
Of Rare Stamps
Endangers Hobby

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 16.—The much-discussed crime wave must be near its peak when the ancient pastime of stamp collecting becomes endangered from counterfeiting, according to local collectors.

F. Hugh Wiley, editor of Stamp Collecting, a British weekly, said in an address here that many of the rare stamps have been counterfeited. It is extremely difficult to bring these offenders to justice, he said, because many collectors are not familiar with the markings of rare stamps.

THE LAST ON THE BALLOT

Judging by the widespread activity in Los Angeles city in favor of "constitutional reapportionment," it appears certain that Los Angeles city's leaders expect to make their hardest fight in November for the passage of Amendment No. 20. This measure was drawn up by and for Los Angeles.

Activity in favor of the opposing measure, No. 28 on the ballot, is not especially evident. This measure was proposed by the Farm Bureau Federation of California, and through its work was given a place on the ballot.

It is very important that voters go to the polls with a clear understanding of these two measures. No. 20 would maintain the present plan of apportionment whereby both assemblymen and senators are apportioned according to population. With the tremendous growth of cities, the control of both houses of the legislature will pass, under this measure, immediately into the hands of the three great cities of the state, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland.

No. 28, the last on the ballot, offers apportionment for the selection of assemblymen on a population basis. State senators, however, are to be chosen on the federal plan, just as U. S. senators are chosen. That is, the number any county may have will be limited. The portions of California not included in big cities will thus be in a position to make themselves heard in at least one house of the legislature.

Among states that have adopted the plan outlined in No. 28 are New York, Illinois and Maryland. Theoretically and practically, the plan offered by the last measure on the ballot is best suited to the needs of the whole state of California. So far as the rural counties are concerned, among which is Orange county, the passage of this measure should be looked upon as vital.

HARBOR FACILITIES IN DEMAND

This newspaper took occasion, not long ago, to call attention to the constantly increasing volume of business done by the Los Angeles harbor, and cited it as convincing evidence that the shipping business of Southern California is becoming so vast that the plans to provide a harbor in Orange county are based on a sound business principle.

As additional evidence along this line the report of the business done by the San Diego harbor is of peculiar interest to the people of Orange county.

The report is made by Harbor-master Capt. J. Brennan of the southern port. From it we learn that San Diego harbor shipping for 1921 totaled in value $18,213,149. The 1925 figure reached $35,361,684; the figures this year will greatly increase this sum. In June 168 vessels, flying flags of four nations, were handled at the harbor, and in July, 173 ships showing seven national flags plied in and out. The total passengers in and out for June was 153,847, while in July the total was 223,986. Vehicles carried on the ferries for the two months numbered 154,969.

The total value of cargo received at the harbor in June was: From Pacific coast ports, $1,643,830; from Atlantic ports, $671,407. In July, the figures were $1,721,642, and $845,394, a decided gain. There was shipped out in June and July cargoes valued at a total of $1,332,843 and shipped in, $5,369,292.

In these figures July showed an increase of $300,000 shipped in to port.

Certainly a large portion of this great increase is due to the heightened building activity and increased merchandising of San Diego and vicinity, but who shall say that the harbor itself is not a very important contributing factor in those increased activities?

At all events the logical—indeed, the inevitable deduction and conclusion are that the tremendous growth of the southland in population, wealth, productivity and industrial activities justify the firm belief that harbor facilities in Orange county would be quickly and profitably utilized.

VOTE FOR A SQUARE DEAL

It isn't a bit too soon for every voter in Orange county, and in every one of the smaller counties of this state, to realize that there are two reapportionment plans to be voted upon at the polls on election day.

One is the Los Angeles plan, so-called, and its purpose virtually is to give the county of Los Angeles, which of course includes Los Angeles city, control in the state legislature. Emanating from Los Angeles, as it does, it might naturally be expected to have just such purpose.

The other "reapportionment" measure, number 28, is the so-called farm bureau or federal plan, calling for creation of a reapportionment commission, consisting of the lieutenant governor, attorney general, surveyor general, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction. It differs from the Los Angeles plan chiefly in the personnel of the proposed commission, and the provision that no city, or city and county, shall contain more than one senatorial district and not more than three rural counties shall be included in any one senatorial district.

This plan, if enacted into law, will give all counties of the state a fair deal. The other plan would not, nor is it meant to.

Under the circumstances it should require no labored argument to convince the voters, who have grown somewhat tired of the "grab-it-all" policy of Los Angeles, as to the necessity of voting and working for the Farm Bureau plan of reapportionment.

HARNESSING THE HORSE

Up in the summer resort region of Muskoka, in Ontario, a couple of summering youths had a humiliating experience. In the absence of an automobile, but with a horse and buggy available, they determined to try the horse and buggy. Then immediately they got into difficulty. They tried and tried, and puzzled and puzzled, and couldn't figure out how to get the harness properly on the horse and the horse properly attached to the buggy.

Finally they appealed timidly to neighboring resorters. All of the young men confessed complete ignorance. Finally a middle-aged lady was found who turned the trick for them.

These were Canadians, and there are still plenty of horses and buggies in some parts of Canada.

How many of our young men in Santa Ana High school know how to hitch up a horse?

Highways Greatest Asset

San Bernardino Sun

The census of automobile traffic in the state recently taken by the highway commission reveals what a great asset to California are her improved highways. Motor traffic is increasing at a rapid rate. The increase in summer travel this year over that of last year is shown to be about 20 per cent. That is a greater increase than in the number of cars licensed at Sacramento. It shows that our improved highways are not only inducing our own people to move about more in all portions of the state, but they are also bringing across the continent a constantly increasing number of cars from other states. That means more money in circulation and more prosperity.

We are too apt to undervalue the influence of paved and graveled highways upon general business. This is not because we do not believe in good roads, but because we have not in the mass sufficiently studied the subject to realize how intimately they are connected with general prosperity, how they distribute money through all the channels of trade everywhere. In the past the chief argument for good roads has been their facility for moving goods and farm products to market at lower cost and at all seasons of the year. We have somewhat been compelled to combat the idea that they are pleasure facilities, because of the instinctive opposition to them on that account by farmers.

But now the farmers are themselves using the highways for pleasure and their opposition to road bonds and taxes on that account is disappearing. It is time now to stress the fact that the pleasure aspect of the highways is one of their chief financial advantages. The motorists leave money in every community through which they pass. The time has gone by when communities depend entirely upon the crop of the adjacent country for their business activity. Automobile money keeps business good even when the local crops fail. Increased travel means increased prosperity.

Could Use An Extra Hour

San Bernardino Sun

Sunny California is soon to confront the question of so-called daylight saving. We have sunshine here every month in the year. It gives us fine outdoor weather almost continuously, interrupted during the winter season by occasional days of rain, sometimes several days in succession. At all other times the great outdoors beckons to every man and woman, boy and girl, to get out into the sunshine and lay up a store of health and energy against the hours of labor.

One trouble in the way we handle our sunshine is that we divide into two parts the sunny hours that are free from toll and which might be enjoyed in the open. Some of those hours come in the morning before we go to work and some come in the evening after we have ceased our labors. If we could combine them into one continuous period of freedom from work, what splendid use of them we might make for pleasure and health. In the summer, when the sun rises almost two hours earlier than in winter, we snooze away the extra daylight by arising at the same time we do in winter, and we get small benefit from it. In the evening, of course, yet they are still too short to let us do all the things we would like to do after we cease our work and before we go to bed. What daylight saving means is to take one of those wasted morning hours and add it to the evening hours and thus lengthen the practicable recreation period. It would add at least 30 miles to the range of the automobile in the evening, 15 out and 15 back, or a whole hour more at the beach or in the mountains or with friends.

This added recreation time would make workers more contented, whether they work in the city or the country. No state in the Union could make better use of another hour after work in the evening than California could. Nature built this state for recreation and we have been wise enough to aid her with paved highways, developed beaches, parks, picnic grounds and mountain resorts. All we need is time to enjoy them.

PARENTS BLAMED FOR CHILDREN'S SICKNESS

Specialists in diseases of children estimate that at least half of all of the patients between 2 and 6 years of age about whom they are consulted are brought because they will not eat.

These children apparently are not very sick, indeed not sick at all. Some of them seem to be well nourished, others even fat, whereas many are definitely underweight. The children vary as to their temperaments.

Some are so spoiled that they will not even submit to satisfactory examination, others are sweet and docile, and still others are phlegmatic and dull and nothing interests them.

These cases give the physician great concern, and call on all his mental powers for the detection of the underlying physical or mental causes.

Dr. Harry Lowenberg indicates his belief that examination of the parents is sometimes the first consideration; usually one or both may be nervous, hysterical, self-willed or have some other undesirable mental characteristic.

Quite often the child is the only child in a family in which no more are wanted because the one at hand is regarded as too expensive to raise or too troublesome.

Not infrequently, the mother will say that the baby was always "colicky" and that she had to wean it at a very tender age. Actually, she had been easily convinced, or had convinced herself, that her breast milk was of poor quality and that there was not enough of it anyway. "Thus I, infancy," says Dr. Lowenberg "was laid the foundation." The child's life had been filled from the first with "don'ts," "stops," "musts," and "must nots," "can'ts," and unfulfilled threats.

The child soon learned to regard its caretaker as a monstrous liar. Its belief in rewards and punishments was destroyed, and it realized its power. "Such a child will not do anything normally that it is asked to do without exacting its price, without exerting its power, without creating a scene, without vomiting if it is forced to eat."

Outright re-education of such a child is not a matter for drugs, or indeed anything except re-education of its parents. The actual cure of the condition lies in its prevention. From the first, children should be taught the habitual nature of ordinary eating.

The diet must be varied and attractive. The parents must not reject food in the presence of the child, since it learns largely by imitation. Detailed discussions of the merits of individual foods at the table disturb the child, and cause it to reject those foods on the slightest provocation.

An Omen?

Memory's Mysteries

Philadelphia Public Ledger

Like everything else in the world, memory seems commonplace until one begins to examine it. And then, still like everything else, it becomes instantly so strange and mystical in contents and operation as to baffle every attempt at understanding.

For example, at any given moment the mind may be utterly empty of every consciousness of things past; and then at a word something is recalled out of days so distant as to seem antediluvian and that will bring up something else and that again something more, until a book could be filled with their description.

And in a moment all this host of remembered things will troop back again into the oblivion from which they came to await the next summons.

Where do all these remembered things, or ghosts of things, stay in the intervals between? A mental feat that is positively uncanny in its implications is the digging down into caches of stored but long forgotten facts and ideas and slowly, as if by invisible forces, dragging them back into consciousness.

Most men and women who keep watch upon their mental processes have learned how to practice this sort of recovery of the forgotten, and they all marvel at it. And the question is: Where was the hiding place of these forgotten things and how much does the mind work this weirdest of all the magic arts?

Knowledge is memory. History is memory relayed through many generations. All the great arts of writing, painting, sculpture, music, charters, constitutions, laws and creeds are the tools and instrumentalities by which memory is given fixation and permanence as a precious possession of the race.

But the weirdest of all the operations of memory perhaps are the moral, intellectual and cultural uses made of it to accomplish what we call progress. If we really knew what mystery is involved in the growing precision of our historic recollections, things remembered through the contributing memories of the passing generations, we might fairly produce a shudder or two of awe in the presence of memory's every act; for it is by this subtle power that we know Plato as if he were still alive and out of the sayings of Jefferson and Lincoln and Washington are able to make rules for the better guidance of our lives.

THE COMING VISION

Now that the heats of the summer slacken
And chill is the breath of the eve and dawn,
The tips of the bending fronds of the bracken
Are blended russet and fawn.

The goldenrod tosses its amber torches;
The sumac flaunts the fruit of its flower,
And the humming bird at the cottage porches
Sips at the trumpet flower.

Soon will all rainbow hues be taken—
Colors that merge in the arc of hope—
To be moved and shifted and jostled and shaken
As in a kaleidoscope.

And we shall see, although transitory
It be, a sight that the vision thrills,
A sheen—a scene that is more than glory
Hovering over the hills.

Say, which is mom, an' which is pop? I'll swear, ya often have to stop and think to really dope the thing, since knickers have come into swing.

The folk who tour, an mebbe hike, these days are looking' much alike. Tween boyish hair cuts, sim'lar clothes, just which is which, gosh only knows.

But, after all, I guess it's wise, 'cause folk have come to realize that when vacation has its fling, real comfort is the sanest thing.

The prude may raise his line of kicks against the women wearin' knicks. Oh, well, we kinda knew he would, but that can't stop 'em feelin' good.

The world do move and styles do change and, sometimes, things seem rather strange, but anyone who just thinks twice, will soon admit that knicks look nice.

There's just one point that man might raise, an' that's where havoc sometimes plays. It's different, quite—you bet it is, if wiffe starts in wearin' his.

Measures on the Ballot

Under this heading, The Register presents information and arguments concerning various measures that are to be voted upon in the November election. Views expressed here may or may not be the views of The Register.

(From The Commonwealth, official publication of the Commonwealth club of San Francisco.)

The report of section on governmental finance, by Fred D. Bullock, chairman of the section on various measures to appear on the ballot in November follow:

In connection with the consideration by the Commonwealth club of the propositions to be submitted to the people of the state of California for approval at the coming November election, there was referred to the section on governmental finance 12 of the 20 amendments under consideration by the club and also Proposition No. 1 approving the action of the state legislature in authorizing a new bond issue under the veterans' welfare act.

The method followed in investigating these propositions was to parcel them out to individual members of the section competent to make a thorough analysis. These reports were then reviewed by the chairman of the committee on taxation and by the chairman of the section. Finally each proposition was brought before a meeting of the section as a whole and after discussion was either approved or disapproved by vote. We feel, therefore, that your section has given these amendments as thorough an analysis and scrutiny as it was possible to make under the circumstances.

Proposition No. 1
Ratifying act of state legislature in authorizing $20,000,000 additional bonds to be issued under the veterans' welfare act.

This proposition provides for ratification by the people of the veterans' welfare act of 1925, chapter 430, statute of 1925, whereby the legislature authorized the issuance of $20,000,000 additional bonds the proceeds of same to be used in buying homes and farms for veterans. The state of California instead of paying cash bonuses to those who served in the world war as so many other states did, enacted legislation providing for the purchase by the state for veterans of homes or farms, not exceeding $5000 in value, and the repayment of these amounts by the beneficiaries over a long period of years. The sum of $10,000,000 has already been expended in this manner and this act provides for the issuance of an additional $20,000,000 in bonds, the proceeds of which are to be used in the same manner.

This act is considered by its sponsors not in the light of a tax exemption but rather as the extending of the credit of the state to veterans at no cost to the people of the state. It is probably true that in its actual administration this proposition is self-supporting. We should keep in mind, however, that it does involve a cost to the people of the state in that the property on which the money is loaned is held in the name of the state and this is lost to the city and county tax rolls.

Your section, however, recommends that we vote "yes" on this proposition.

Needs Revision
Proposition No. 2, A. C. A. No. 37, taxing highway transportation companies. Proposition No. 7, S. C. A. No. 40, taxation of short line steam railroads.

Both of the above propositions have the effect of applying new patches to a state taxation system which is conceded by state officials and leaders of industry to be inadequate and unsound, and which does not distribute the tax burden in an equitable way. Your section, in studying the amendments, has kept this in mind and takes this opportunity of expressing its opinion as to the immediate need for a thoroughgoing revision of the entire tax program of the state.

Proposition No. 2
A. C. A. No. 37, taxing highway transportation companies.

This amendment relates to taxes levied upon companies operating motor vehicles as common carriers of persons or property over state highways.

It provides that the rate of tax on companies engaged in transportation of persons shall be 4% per cent of gross receipts and that the rate on companies engaged in transportation of property shall be five per cent of gross receipts, such taxes to be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses upon the operation of property of such companies. These rates are to remain in force until changed by a two-thirds vote of the legislature.

The revenues from such taxes are to be applied one-half to the state of California for use in the general maintenance and repair of highways and one-half to the respective counties in proportion to the motor vehicles registered in each county.

This amendment which substitutes the new rates of 4% per cent and five per cent for the rate of four per cent levied in chapter 412, section 4 of the statutes of 1925, would place motor vehicle transportation companies on the same basis with railroad and other transportation companies taxed under article 13 of the constitution, but with the important distinction that instead of the revenues from this source being used for general state purposes, as is the case in connection with other transportation companies as provided by section 4 of article 13, they would be used for highway purposes exclusively, one-half to be expended by the state and the other half to be apportioned among the counties.

Proportionate Distribution
The apportionment of the one-half of the revenues to the counties is to be made in proportion to the number of motor vehicles registered from said counties. This is an arbitrary basis not necessarily related to the source of revenue as the taxes are levied on the gross receipts of the transportation companies, but are apportioned to counties in accordance with the number of motor vehicles registered.

This proposal appears to be designed in part for the purpose of compelling greater expenditures of state funds for highway maintenance in the thickly populated counties by removing such expenditures from the control of the state highway commission and placing them in the hands of county officers. In the study of this amendment the following facts are apparent:

1. That the increase in rates is not justified by any knowledge of the ability of the companies to pay or by comparison with their taxes.

2. The restriction of the use of these revenues to highway purposes was not co-ordinated with a general plan for securing funds for highway purposes. In this connection we desire to state that the section on state highways in its consideration of highway amendments Nos. 4 and 8 have gone thoroughly into the matter of the question of revenues for highway purposes and are of the opinion that the amount of revenue which will be produced by amendment No. 4 will be sufficient to take care of the transportation needs of the state and that the comparatively small amount of revenue which will be raised by this amendment will be needed.

3. The provision for the apportionment of revenues is inconsistent with other provisions of article 13 of the constitution, and the apportionment of revenues to counties is based upon a ratio different from the ratio pertaining to the source of revenues.

4. The proposal would only add confusion to the already chaotic tax structure of the state.

Parity Justified
At the time of the enactment of the King bill it was intended that all highways needed for payment of state expenditures would be secured from the taxes assessed against transportation companies, public utilities, banks, etc. In the actual working out of things, however, this program has not been successful as is evidenced by the gasoline tax, etc. The need for a complete revision of the state taxation system is no longer a controversial question and we think it unwise to add another complicating factor.

On the other hand we believe that the motor transportation companies should rightfully be placed on a parity with other utilities and have taxes on operative property determined by the state without being subjected by the various localities through which they operate to demands for taxes which are often excessive and unjust.

After careful consideration and in view of its expressed attitude toward a complete revision of the laws governing taxation, rather than a continuance of the present policy of patching, your section makes no recommendation concerning this amendment.

Proposition No. 7
S. C. A. No. 40, taxation of short line steam railroads.

This amendment has the effect of reducing the rate of taxation on independently operated short line steam railroads in California, not over 350 miles in length, from 7 per cent to 5% per cent of their gross receipts. The rate of 7 per cent is that assessed against the large steam roads while the rate of 5% per cent is that now paid by the electric railways. It seems just that the short line steam railroads should be classified with the electric roads rather than with the larger steam railroads.

In view, however, of its expressed opinions on the subject of further amendments, our present tax laws, unless it be done in a thoroughgoing fashion, your section makes no recommendation concerning this amendment.
